And That Takes Care of That

'Regrettable, Regrettable', Army Says After Long Investigation Into Insurance

It looks as if Jada will never know who gave her name to the Soverign Life Insurance company for inclusion on its mailing list.

Jada, the Collie pet of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sotter, of 546 North Charlotte street, and their son Jack, touched off the investigation into the mail-order solicitation of insurance from the parents of newly enlisted military personnel when the dog received a letter from the Dallas, Tex., insurance firm.

But the Army in a letter to Congressman John A. LaFore has admitted the probe into how the dog's name was obtained has gotten nowhere.

And "for all practical purposes the investigation has been completed," the letter concluded.

THE COLLIE'S name was written on the shipping tag as part of a family joke by Pvt. Sotter. The dog was later addressed by the insurance company as Mrs. Jada Sotter.

The Army admitted, in a letter to Congressman John A. LaFore, that the regulations prohibiting the furnishing of a list of military personnel or personal information have "apparently been violated."

It expressed regrets that "the investigation so far has failed to disclose who furnished the name of Jada Sotter to the insurance company concerned."

The Army also admitted that it had known of the leaking of parents' names occuring "from time to time" in the past, but investigations then had also proved fruitless.

PRIOR investigations had always led the Army to believe that the names were obtained through clipping services to which the insurance companies

WILLIAM YOHN IS RENAMED TREASURER

School Board Official Elected for 9th Term

William H. Yohn Sr., 677 Woodland avenue, has been elected for the ninth straight year as treasurer to the Pottstown School board. He was elected to the post less than a year after he was first chosen to serve on the board.

Yohn refuses to accept a salary for the office. His predecessor received $1000 a year for the job, however.

WILLIAM H. YOHN

During March, Yohn was named assistant secretary in charge of the Security Trust company.

He was graduated from Pottstown High school in 1929 and from Bucknell university in 1933 with a BS degree in commerce and finance.

From 1934 until 1946 he was associated with the Commercial Credit company, and managed branch offices in Reading, Lancaster, Allentown and Philadelphia.

For over 11 years he was with Bachman and Company, incorporated, 19 North Hanover street. In October, 1957, Yohn became manager of the Dauphin Loan company, 384 High street.

The Yohns live at 677 Woodland avenue and have four children.

Occasional Rain Possible Today

The clouds and mid-60 degree temperature that chilled the Pottstown area Tuesday were expected to continue today along with the possibilities of occasional rain.

The clouds that ended a dry spell by dumping more than two inches of rain on the area Sunday and Monday just threatened Tuesday.

But the clearing evident Tuesday afternoon hinted at the type of weather that the weatherman predicts for later this week.

The outlook calls for cloudy unsettled weather to continue through today and clearing tomorrow.

THE WEATHER

Mostly cloudy with showers today. High in the 60s. Clearing tonight with a low in the 40s. Mostly fair tomorrow with the high again in the 60s.

Pottstonians Are Undaunted By Approaching Friday 13th

Despite the fact that Columbus discovered America on Friday the 13th, Americans are a superstitious lot.

Hotels skip from 12th to the 14th floor; passenger ships refuse to sail on Friday the 13th; planes have no 13th seat; and the town of Frenck Lick Springs, Ind., once decreed that all black cats must wear a bell on Friday the 13th—just to avoid triskaidekaphobia.

Triskaidekaphobia—the fear of the number 13—is a disease that dates back more than 2000 years. The first victims seem to have been the ancient Scandinavians who felt that an uninvited guest to a banquet of 12 gods killed one of the favorite gods—named Balder.

The balderdash is what most of the Pottstonians who would seem to be the most strongly affected say.

MARIANNE CRISTINE Moletrees, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Moletrees, 236 Lemon street, Stowe, celebrates her 18th birthday on 1960's only Friday the 13th—this Friday.

"Not only is it my birthday," she reports, "but it's also the date of the senior prom."

A Senior at Pottsgrove High school, she says she isn't superstitious—as she knocks on wood to make sure it won't rain Friday night.

"At least I'm not superstitious—yet," she concluded.

Much of the superstition concerning the number 13 and Friday the 13th has a religious background.

Adam and Eve were reputed to have eaten the forbidden fruit on a Friday; the 40-day flood was

SCHOOLMEN HOLD ANNUAL SPRING MEET

Association Hears Different Education Views

Some 300 members of the School Directors Association of Montgomery county met at Norristown Tuesday night for the annual Spring meeting.

According to Dr. Allen Harman, assistant county superintendent of schools, the purpose was "to discuss problems of mutual interest among directors and to give them information that is of value to them in administering the schools."

Speaker for the meeting at the Eisenhower school was Dr. Leslie W. Kindred, professor of educational administration at Temple university, Philadelphia. His topic

AIRPORT AID DISCUSSED BY PANEL

Committee Outlines Need of Adequate Field

STOWE SITE FAVORED FOR FEDERAL GRANT

The borough's stake in a municipal airport was clarified and emphasized Tuesday night by councilmen.

They discussed a crucial hearing about government aid next Tuesday in Harrisburg.

The importance of the Harrisburg talks will center on whether Federal aid of $96,000 will be withdrawn.

The money, coupled with a large State appropriation, would vastly improve Pottstown's industrial status, said councilmen.

THE FUNDS, however, could be lost due to complaints against airport improvements. A remonstrance has been filed by 20 residents led by Walter F. Schwab, Manatawny and Glasgow streets.

The airport committee outlined the economic impact of developing an adequate airport. The committee heard that 90 percent of all flights from the airport in Stowe are for business and in-

500 Local Pupils To Participate In Final Capitol Meet

Pottstown will send its youth to Washington, D. C., Friday for a final march in quest of national honor.

When the nearly 500 elementary and high school youngsters pile into 12 buses in Pottstown and area Friday morning they will start the last of 30 annual excursions to join in the National School Safety Patrol parade.

The colorful affair sponsored by the National American Automobile association will bring 31,000 American youths together for a competitive parade down Constitution avenue on Saturday.

The Pottstown Auto club has sponsored the trip for Pottstown and some area youngsters in the past but has announced that this year's trip will be the last to Washington. The auto club has indicated that plans are being drawn for participation by area groups in a parade next year in another city, perhaps in Pottstown.

Local Accountant Uses Centuries Old Method of Becoming a Church Deacon

Alan E. Holt Jr., 1021 Rambler avenue, has concluded a centuries old method of becoming a churchman.

Holt studied "at the feet of his pastor" for several years and will be ordained Saturday as an Episcopal deacon.

The Episcopal church began its system of seminaries just 150 years ago.

Before that, young men learned church law and philosophy from their rectors. Holt received his teachings from the Rev. G. A. Lineker, rector of Christ Episcopal church, 316 High street.

The old fashioned way of entering church officialdom was a necessity for Holt. He has a wife and three children to support so couldn't spend three years in a seminary.

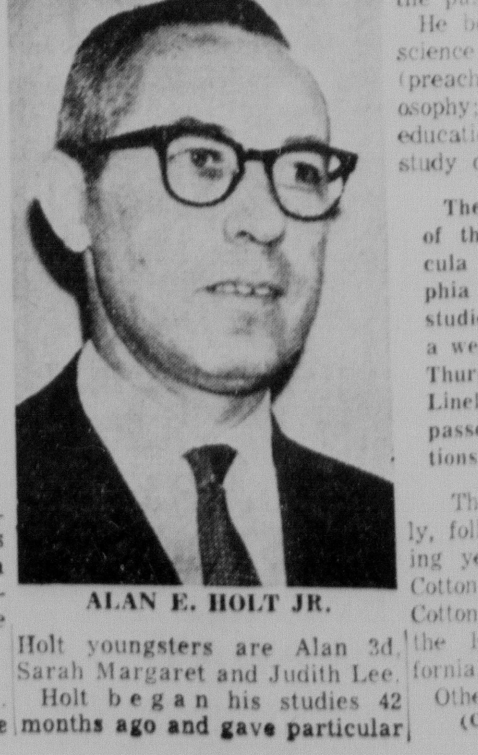
HIS WIFE, Lela, is the Rev. Lineker's former secretary. The Holt youngsters are Alan 3d, Sarah Margaret and Judith Lee.



ALAN E. HOLT JR.

Holt began his studies 42 months ago and gave particular emphasis on that work during the past two years.

He boned up on liturgics (the science of worship); homiletics (preaching); sacremental philosophy; church history; Christian education and a comprehensive study of church missions.

The course was an outline of the Rev. Lineker's curricula years ago in Philadelphia Divinity school. Holt studied the program six days a week and was tested every Thursday night by the Rev. Lineker. He then took and passed Canonical examinations.

The Rev. Lineker, incidentally, followed this course of training years ago with Charles E. Cotton, Birdsboro. The Rev. Cotton later became assistant to the Episcopal bishop of California.

Other men from the Rev. Line-

GUARDSMAN SHUNS DRILLS, IS ARRESTED

Commanding Officer Says Private Was AWOL

A Pottstown National Guardsman, AWOL from the unit since January, was picked up by Pottstown police Tuesday night, 20 minutes after military authorities signed the warrant. He is being held in the borough jail without bond.

John H. Mars, 20, of 242 South Washington street, a private of Company "C" of Pottstown's 28th Infantry division, joined the unit in October after completing six months active duty.

According to Capt. William A. Connelly, commanding officer, Mars was arrested for non-attendance of drills. "Since he joined, he attended meetings regularly enough for us not to bring charges against him, but in January he stopped attending entirely".

An Investigation will be made for a possible court martial during the company's Tuesday night meeting. If the investigation shows that Mars should be court martialed he can receive a maximum of 30 days

U.S. Pledges Aid To Allies Struck By Red Attack

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Soviet Union formally protested Tuesday against U.S. spy flights over Soviet territory. It promised retaliation against any such future flights. And it said Francis G. Powers, the 30-year-old American captured on such a mission last week, "will be brought to account under Soviet laws."

The United States, meanwhile, pledged it would go to the aid of its allies which might be attacked by Russia for allowing U.S. planes to use their air bases.

At the same time, the U.S. State Department accused Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev of waging a campaign of threats and intimidation against small countries innocent of any wrongdoing.

A vigorous defense of the U.S. position that the Soviet Union makes it necessary for America to spy on her was made in the Senate by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and in the house by Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo). The applause their speeches received indicated they were viewed as a bipartisan closing of ranks before the start of next week's summit conference in Paris.

These were the major developments that emerged in another day busy with repercussions from the spy flight incident.

Cannon, in his house speech, said American espionage flights over Soviet territory have been made for years. He spoke of flights since 1946 and penetrations as deep as 1,300 miles inside the Soviet Union.

Speaking as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, he said such flights had the approval and support of members of the Defense Appropriations subcommittee.

Cannon said spy flights are justified "by honored and established precedent." He said this country must know of any future preparations for attack on it and not suffer unnecessary loss of lives, as happened in Korea.

Cannon also declared that Powers' high-flying U2 jet was not shot down, as Khrushchev has claimed, but was forced down by "some unforeseen and unavoidable mechanism or physiological defect."

Some support for this view came from Moscow. An article in Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, said Powers indicated he believed an explosion of his jet engine, rather than a rocket, halted his flight.

The Los Angeles maker of the U2 had said earlier that pictures the Russians released as being of Powers' downed plane definitely were not photographs of a U2.

Johnson urged in the Senate that any intelligence blunders that might have been made in the Powers' incident not be used for political purposes. He said an investigation should be made objectivelz without hysteria, panic or hasty action.

And there were these other connected developments:

1. The State Department assured Japan that future U2 flights from Japanese bases would be "utilized only for legitimate and normal purposes" of weather observation.

2. Eisenhower conferred for 75 minutes with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Vice President Richard M. Nixon regarding preparations for the summit conference. There was no indication whether the plane incident also was brought up for the third successive day between the President and Herter.

3. The White House said Eisenhower will visit Japan and Korea as scheduled next month even if the plane incident should lead him to cancel plans for a trip to the Soviet Union. A White House spokesman said, however, preparations still are going forward for the visit.

Nixon, Kennedy Lead Nebraska Preference Vote

OMAHA (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, with the advantage of being the only listed candidate on presidential preference ballots, pulled into an early and comfortable lead over Democratic rivals in early vote counting in Nebraska's primary election tonight.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon monopolized write-in balloting on the Republican side on the strength of the early unofficial returns, most of them from precincts where vote counting still was in progress.

Democratic returns from 45 of the state's 2,107 precincts gave 1,540 votes to Kennedy; with 123 write-in votes to Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, 59 to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and two to former nominee Adlai Stevenson.

Republican returns from 19 precincts gave Nixon 840; New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller 26; Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona 5, and Interior Secretary Fred Seaton, a Nebraskan, 1.

SENATOR KENNEDY SENATOR HUMPHREY

TREND INDICATED—Although delayed by counting a large number of local candidates and the absence of voting machines, the tally in West Virginia early this morning indicated a victory for Senator Kennedy.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Kennedy Is Headed For Upset Victory

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) grabbed a commanding lead Tuesday night in a West Virginia primary bid aimed at clinching the Democratic presidential nomination.

Kennedy, a Catholic, ran strongly in almost every section of this Protestant state. From the first precinct to report he rolled up a steadily-widening margin over Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), a Congregationalist.

Unofficial returns from 319 of West Virginia's 2,750 precincts gave Kennedy a margin of better than 9,000 votes over Humphrey. The vote was 24,153 for Kennedy and 14,648 for Humphrey.

The tally came from scattered precincts in 34 of the 55 counties. On this basis, Kennedy was getting 62 per cent of the vote.

Robert Kennedy, brother of the senator, said at Kennedy headquarters here late Tuesday night: "It appears that Sen. Kennedy is headed for an upset victory in the state of West Virginia. We are very grateful to the people of this state."

In a contest geared to demonstrating that he can get the Protestant votes he would need to win in November, Kennedy picked up substantial margins in many areas where there are almost no Catholics.

He headed Humphrey in the southern coal fields, which have been hard hit economically. He forged to the front in some industrial counties on the Ohio River. He took the lead in farming areas in the center of the state and in Charleston.

Kennedy ran 5-1 ahead of Humphrey in first reports from Ohio County (Wheeling), where the Catholic population is the largest proportionately in the state, 29.9 per cent.

Only on the border of Virginia and in the southwestern corner of the state did Humphrey hold the advantage in the early balloting in a popularity contest that was not binding on the state's 25 vote convention delegation but which might make or break Kennedy's bid for the party nomination.

Kennedy, who flew to Washington earlier in the day, arranged to return to Charleston for what his followers confidently predicted would be a victory celebration.

Humphrey withheld any comment as returns unfavorable to him mounted.

Executives See Stevenson as Demo Candidate

WHITE SULPHER SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—A bare majority of top executives of the nation's leading magazines say that a Republican ticket headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon will edge the Democrats in this fall's election.

The 323 persons at the 41st annual spring conference of the Magazine Publishers Assn. were asked which candidates they think will be the top nominees in November—and who will win.

Forty-nine per cent of those voting predicted a Republican victory, 48 per cent a triumph for the Democrats.

Forty-eight per cent saw Adlai E. Stevenson as the Democratic nominee, with 22 per cent predicting it would be Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, 15 per cent Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and 11 per cent Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

On the Republican side, 94 per cent of the opinion went to Nixon, three per cent to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and another three per cent to former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Kennedy was accorded 51 per cent of the vote for vice president on the Democratic ticket, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota 11 per cent and Symington 10 per cent.

Rockefeller and Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell were named on 21 and 15 per cent of the ballots, respectively, for the No. 2 spot in the Republican ranks.

SPY IN SKY SEEN TOPIC AT SUMMIT

Macmillan Replies To Khrushchev Letter

DISARMAMENT PLEA MAY BE BASIS

LONDON (AP) — The real-life drama of America's photo spy in the Soviet sky seems assured of a thorough airing at next week's Big Four summit talks.

Nikita Khrushchev's handling of the affair has convinced Western envoys in Moscow that the Soviet Premier intends to discuss it with allied leaders in Paris at the conference opening Monday.

Presidents Eisenhower and De Gaulle and Prime Minister Macmillan are almost certain to refer to the incident, a high British source indicated Tuesday. He said it was the sort of thing that Western leaders may use to dramatize the need for urgent measures of disarmament.

Macmillan sent a personal message replying to a letter from Khrushchev Monday on the arrangements for the summit meeting. It came as a surprise. Earlier Macmillan's aides said Khrushchev's message did not call for an answer.

Khrushchev evidently had written to Eisenhower, De Gaulle and Macmillan in similar terms on questions relating to the detailed mechanics of the conference. He was replying to a communication De Gaulle sent as host for the talks.

Informants reported that in his message to Macmillan the Soviet Premier:

1. Agreed to negotiate in absolute secrecy.

2. Agreed to hold some sessions, perhaps including the kick-off, program-setting talk, without advisers present.

3. Failed to mention the duration of the conference. This may become something of an issue if Eisenhower goes through with his idea of having Vice President Richard M. Nixon sit in for him temporarily while Eisenhower visits Portugal May 23.

New Mexico Senator Has Little Opposition

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Incumbent Democrat John Burroughs and former Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, Republican, swung into early leads Tuesday night in New Mexico primary election contests for nomination as governor.

A hard fight developed between incumbent Joseph M. Montoya and T. E. Lusk for the Democratic nomination for congressional position one. Early, unofficial Associated Press returns gave an impressive lead to incumbent Thomas G. Morris over challenger Calvin Horn for the Democratic nomination for congressional position two.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson encountered no serious opposition from three rivals for renomination for a third term.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

USS Triton Accomplishes Trip Around World Beneath Water

WASHINGTON (AP)—The big gray hull of a submarine, scum-streaked from 83 days submergence, surfaced off the Delaware coast at dawn Tuesday. The USS Triton was back from an epochal around-the-world voyage beneath all the earth's great oceans.

The Triton, a huge 7,750-ton sub powered with twin atomic engines, had completed a trip in less than three months that took a sailing ship of Ferdinand Magellan's fleet three years more than 420 years ago.

Aboard the Triton on her 41,519-mile voyage—30,708 of it representing the circumnavigation route—were 183 men, including half a dozen scientists and technicians.

It was a proud day for the Navy, for Capt. Edward L. Beach of the Triton—and for President Eisenhower.

The President welcomed Beach at the White House, where he was brought by helicopter from his ship.

Eisenhower pinned the Legion of Merit decoration on the crew-cut, square-jawed captain and told him "maybe your White House service didnt' hurt." Beach served for four years as Eisenhower's naval aide—four years in which the captain privately fretted because he wasn't at sea in a submarine.

The Triton's voyage had its moments of worry.

A crewman became ill with kidney stones. The Triton sent a radio message. The cruiser Macon hurried to a rendezvous and took the man aboard. The Triton kept her hull below water for the transfer, poked only the conning tower up to put the crewman aboard a launch from the cruiser.

Then there was an exciting moment when an explosion-like sound and a blinding mist of oil spray signaled the failure of a hydraulic line controlling the diving planes. A submarine, driven along at 20 or more miles per hour, could dive deep and unchecked if the diving planes fail. But a torpedoman groped his way through the compartment and shut off the pressure. The trouble was repaired and the Triton resumed her journey.

There were little, humorous happenings. Once Beach upped the periscope. There before him was a boat, with an elderly woman and man aboard. The man, a rather "portly gentleman" of the Philippines, pointed out the strange stick-like object slicing through the water. Another time, Beach took a look through the 'scope—to find himself eye-to-eye with a young Filipino boatman.

But the Navy thinks the Triton made the whole voyage without the knowledge of any ship of any Navy, except the secrecy-sworn crew of the Macon.

In her cruise, the Triton broke several records. Her 83 days, 10 hours, 15 minutes submerged far exceed the 60 days submergence record set two years ago by the nuclear submarine Seawolf. The 41,519-mile trip was longer by thousands of miles than the previous nuclear submarine voyages from Hawaii to the Atlantic by way of the North Pole.

SENIORS ACCEPTED—Four Pottstown High school Seniors have been accepted to colleges and universities in September.

Charles E. Horn, left, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Edward S. Horn, 349 Roland street, will attend Muhlenberg college, Allentown, and will study liberal arts. He is a member of the school patrol.

Leonard A. Ebert Jr., will attend the College of art at the Philadelphia museum and study advertising art. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Ebert, Pottstown RD 3. He is a member of the cabinet, safety patrol, Troiad business staff, chorus, dance band and is a class photographer.

Linda Ebert, Pottstown RD 3, third from left, will follow a secretarial course at the Peirce Business school, Philadelphia. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Ebert Jr., and is a member of the high school choir and class cabinet, and is a class photographer.

Anita Louise Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Klaus, 946 High street, will attend Miami university, Miami, Fla. Miss Stone will study art and minor in English. She is a member of the safety patrol and art club.

Hill History Master Addresses Lions Club

John T. Whatley, history master at The Hill school, spoke on "Primaries and Candidates" Tuesday night before 40 members of the Pottstown Lions club at the Brookside country club.

Whatley, who also coaches varsity swimming at The Hill school, discussed the kind of image candidates feel they must create to satisfy the public.

Joseph Pereni was program chairman.

The meeting was in charge of Charles Boyle, first vice president.

A board meeting preceded the regular meeting.

17 Cadets Pass Training Phase

Seventeen Civil Air Patrol cadets have passed the first phase of training, Lt. John Basco, commander of squadron 909, group 90, 31st wing, announced at the monthly meeting of the squadron Tuesday night at the Reserve armory, Fourth and Hanover streets.

There are four more phases before the cadets are eligible for college scholarships, a dinner in Washington, D. C., scholarships to study in a foreign land through the international CAP exchange program, and jet orientation courses.

The squadron is composed of 17 cadets and 11 Seniors. Following the four phases, the 17 cadets will also become eligible for another cadet training program.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

The relation between superiors and inferiors is like that between the wind and the grass. The grass must bend when the wind blows over it.—(Confucius)

It's Never Too EARLY

EARL D. BICER, Ninth ward councilman, made a sensible proposal at Pottstown borough council meeting the other night.

He asked Council President J. Wayne Knause to appoint a welcoming committee to meet with representatives of the three Pottsgrove townships to discuss merger plans.

Councilman Knause apparently didn't think much of the suggestion. That was his privilege.

He said: "That's a little premature. I'll take the request under consideration."

The proposal seemed to have merit, especially if Pottstown officialdom is seriously interested in a consolidation of four contiguous political subdivisions.

Mr. Knause was entitled to the opinion that the proposal was "premature." But we doubt if it is.

It's not at all too early to sit down with the friendly people of West and Lower and Upper Pottsgrove to talk about merger, to talk about savings in government costs, to talk about the complex job of living together.

Pottstown missed the boat when a school merger was proposed years ago. Pottstown missed the boat because some officials were unfriendly; their haughty attitude chased away the country cousins.

Everyone knows the result. Both Pottstown and the Pottsgroves have paid a heavy penalty because they couldn't get together.

Pottsgrove built a new high school. So did Pottstown. Pottsgrove is about to spend much money to provide more junior high or elementary school space. So is Pottstown. Its renovation of the present high school will cost a pretty penny.

This duplication of building physical plants, of hiring two sets of teachers, of buying double quantities of books, pencils and paper, of hiring school buses and driving all over the swell acres is a costly effort that is bogging down the taxpayers. Taxes are getting higher every year. The end is not yet.

This lesson has been bitter. Many a person can see it now, although the gall hasn't made itself felt to some diehards who still say: "We want no part of Pottstown!"

That attitude may be attributable to the scornful approach of those Pottstonians who think they're doing our neighbors a big favor by selling them water, or making a profit on sewer lines.

That Pottstown repulsed its neighbors even may be indicated in North Coventry's failure to include Pottstown in its plans for sewer extension.

This is a harsh indictment, but unfortunately it's borne out by past events. Pottstown couldn't get together in a school way because of a clash of personalities. Pottstown officials were accused of saying "Let them get their own water. We're not in the water business!"

This attitude was indigestible to the Pottsgroves. You can't blame them for shying off. They're not inferiors, you know!

Now comes the attitude that merger talks are "a little premature."

Are they? Is it too early to talk things over, to swap ideas, to decide where savings can be made, to make plans for a metropolitan center of 50,000 population.

Is it too early to put this great community on the map? To put out industrial feelers, to plot a more friendly community?

We think not. It isn't necessary for any side to commit itself. The "summit conferees" won't have to make any promises (they probably won't be empowered to). But an exchange of ideas won't hurt anybody.

The thing to remember is that we missed a big opportunity years ago. Even a rural official who helped to stuff the ballot boxes against a school merger straw vote saw the error of his ways later and repented. But it was too late.

"Premature?" Not by a long sight. It would be to Pottstown's everlasting glory if this borough humbly suggested a meeting of minds, because many a Pottstonian knows it's to this town's advantage to hook up with the progressive townships.

Why? Where is Pottstown to grow? Where will it build new homes? Where will it place new industry? Answer those questions honestly and you'll see!

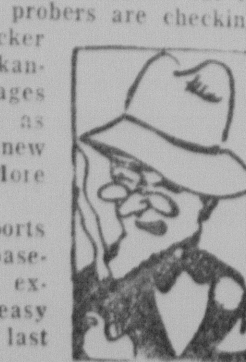
PUNKIN CORNERS,
May 10.

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:



Wal, I see by the papers where out in western Pennsylvania probers are checking to see whether a packer converted imported kangaroo meat into sausages instead of selling it as food for minks. A new type of hot dog? More bounce to the ounce?

In Chicago a sports broadcaster and a baseball club manager exchanged jobs. It's easy to see who'll get the last word.

And say: See where somebody has devised a square moth ball. To fool the bugs into thinking it's a sugar cubs?

Hopin' you air the same,

Air Raid Precautions Are Necessary

What'll Save Lives

To the Editor: Replying to criticism of J. W. B.'s letter of the method of conducting operation alert May 3, I have noted with interest the statement that a nuclear bomb will "flatten everything or will melt and burn the rest with its awful heat." ("Raid Test Silly," Readers Say, May 6).

Perhaps a great many persons share this opinion, and would appreciate some comment on it.

While it is true that the shift from kilaton to megaton weapons has expanded the area of blast and fire zones a hundredfold, and that a lethal fallout is probable from distant as well as from nearby strikes, it is also true civil defense compliance will save tens of millions of lives that could otherwise be lost.

We as individuals have a responsibility to learn what to do in the event of an enemy attack on this country.

Five rather simple steps which would improve greatly our chances for safety. These are:

1. Warning signals and what they mean; 2. Community plan for emergency action; 3. Protection from radioactive fallout; 4 First aid and home emergency preparedness; 5. Use of Conelrad for official information.

The government has developed the National Plan to provide protection for us, our families, neighbors, and for the nation, but it will work only if we as citizens make it work. This can be achieved only with the active support and participation of all of us.

Pottstown RD 18
DUNCAN M. HUNSBERGER, Director
Lower Pottsgrove Township Civil Defense

Children Forgotten

To the Editor: The writer does not qualify as an expert of nuclear explosions. However, reliable information which prompts civil defense authorities to ask citizens to take cover is available.

The book "The Effects of Nuclear Weapons" by the United States department of defense reads as follows:

"Thermal radiation is capable of causing skin burns on exposed individuals at such distances from the nuclear explosion that the effects of blast and of the initial nuclear radiation are not significant."

It is in these areas where casualties can be held to a minimum, with the cooperation of an alerted public.

Here, too, the hazard of nuclear radiation will descend at a time interval sufficient to make last minute preparations, if the public is properly informed and acts upon the information.

In the case of the recent alert and the assumed attack, school children could have been sent home to take shelter against fallout radiation, after the passing of the thermal wave, in this area.

No one can outline a safe journey through these perplexing times, we can receive counsel in which direction to blaze the trail.

Hay for Hoffa

Word to Fit Weather

To the Editor: It is a little surprising that no one has ever employed the one adjective most descriptive of the weather we have been having.

"Chameleonic" is the adjective, seemingly long in hiding in Webster. It means changeable and inconstant, stemming from the little creature bearing the very long name chameleon.

On second thought, the word ought not to be confined to the weather; its application could be almost universal in scope, appropriately descriptive of today's politics, economics, finance, science, governments, countries and what not.

Collegeville PROF.

Federal Spending

To the Editor: The excess spending of our Federal government has been increasing at an alarming rate for the past several years.

This can no longer continue unless we are prepared to accept a socialistic government society in which every activity of the people is controlled by the government.

Since I do not believe the people will ever willingly adopt such a system I hope that you will use your influence to try to stop the excess spending of our federal government.

No people have ever been able to retain their freedom where the government continued to take as big a part of their income as is now being taken by our government.

The only way we can reduce this spending is by electing men to Congress that will make their best efforts to reduce this spending.

JOTTINGS IN PENCIL

FUN-loving Johnny Meyers, whose recent California divorce was eclipsed by the Finch trial (it took place in the same courthouse) is back in the swing of things at El Morocco, with Audrey Meadows as his lovely date.

Parisians are thrilled by the report that Gene Kelly intends to open a dancing school in the French capital and stage Gershwin's "Concerto in F" for the Paris Opera.

The young man arrested for the Brooklyn "Lovers' Lane" slaying was a "string" photographer for one of the New York gazettes. None of his pictures ever made the paper's front page—but another cameraman's shot of him finally landed him where he yearned to be.

A FIRST rate British actor, as well known to Amreicans as he is to the English, "took" the Metropole for $18.40 the other night. He'd run up exactly that amount when he told the jazz club's bartender he felt a little woozy and was "just going to take a little walk" to clear his head, but would be back in 15 minutes. He never returned.

Shopkeepers and restauranteurs along the Champs Elysees and other key Parisian boulevards aren't overjoyed at the prospect of the coming summit meeting.

During Premier Khrushchev's recent visit with President de Gaulle, they groaned over 30 percent drop in business because so many thoroughfares were blocked off for security or whoop-la reasons, and they expect the summit conference to put an even bigger dent in their cash register receipts . . .

THE NEXT actor to get the big "he-man" buildup by Hollywood will be tall, blond and handsome Doug McClure, appearing with Audrey Hepburn and Burt Lancaster in "The Unforgiven".

The unhappiest producer on the West Coast is the one whose beautiful wife keeps touring and touring and touring with the same attractive leading man.

Peter Matz, the arranger-conductor, has landed quite a plum: he'll compose the music and wield the baton for the Eddie Hodges spectacular destined for the TV screens in June. It'll be taped within the next ten days.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DON L., aged 39, is the drunken husband of Dorothy, who was debating a divorce.

"Dr. Crane," he began, after his wife had argued him to come to my office, "I hate myself when I get drunk.

"I really wish I could quit the bottle. But I don't seem to have the proper will power. I don't know why whisky has such control over me.

"Dorothy is debating a divorce, and I don't blame her. For I have failed her terribly."

Please notice that Don says he doesn't know why whisky has him in its clutches. But he really does!

Patients try to avoid painful ideas and thus will often talk in circles when consulting a doctor, though in reality they know the root of their problem.

SOMETIMES IT requires hours to dig out the missing "jig saw" piece that makes the puzzle clearcut and simple.

But that missing fact is always available!

Notice, too, that Don says he has failed Dorothy terribly! That is his disguised reference to his sexual impotence, though he tries to make us think his drunkenness is the focus of the problem.

Alcoholism is usually just an external symptom of a serions inner burning. The victim is in a serious emotional conflagaration.

He feels on fire with fear, worry, humiliation, guilt of twinges of conscience.

Because of this consuming inner "fire," he seeks a fire escape. Thus, millions of alcoholics soon discover that whisky will dull their inside torment and give them at least a few hours of relief from their pain.

BESIDES, IT often serves as a convenient red herring to direct their wives' attention away from the fact these men are growing impotent.

Not all cases of alcoholism are due to sexual inferiority complexes, for many other forms of guilt will likewise drive victims to whisky.

But you can be pretty sure that worry over a platonic condition (impotence) is behind the usual husband's alcoholism after the age of 35 to 40.

So I spent an hour leading Don around to the focus of his problem.

"Yes, Dr. Crane," he finally admitted, "I'm scared. I am no good as a husband, and I know Dorothy would lose respect for me if she knew the real facts.

Inside Television

By EVE STARR

STARR REPORT—Rory Calhoun has had the rug pulled out from under him. He gave up his successful half-hour series, "The Texan," in order to prepare a new hour-long action-adventure show in association with CBS.

The network, however, has suddenly discovered it has no more room in its 1960-61 schedule for another hour series and has cancelled Rory's plans. So he's now just sort of standing there with egg on his face.

Jo Stafford has set some sort of record. During the past three years she has turned down a total of $1,125,000 worth of offers from TV and night clubs simply because the jobs would have taken too much time away from her family.

WITH JUNE Lockhart, to think is to act. She's the kind of girl who would give you her dining room table if you happened to admire it.

So a friend of hers recently complained to her about the dry spell. That night it started to rain for the first time in weeks. The friend's phone rang. It was June. "Are you happy?" she said brightly. "I've been up seeding the clouds for you!"

Don't look now, but "The Invisible Man" is coming back. The ambitious and expensive British-made, CBS-financed series, a major flop two years ago, goes into the Kate Smith time slot for 13 weeks beginning July 25. Kate Smith won't be returning in the Fall. The time period will be taken over by the new Weir Brothers series, "Oh, Those Bells."

GALE STORM is on her way back—not to TV but to good health. It's taken this long just for her nerves to unwind. Says her husband, flatly: "She'll never do another series again."

Ray Milland had planned to shoot a dozen "Markham" episodes in Europe this Summer. But "Markham" suddenly got cancelled. Milland, delighted, will now spend the Summer touring Europe with his wife and visiting their son at the University of Madrid.

June Allyson, back from a week's fishing in Mexico with Dick Powell, promises that her show next season is going to be "as far from soap opera as it's possible to get." Her new producer will be Aaron Spelling, a writer who got his start writing the lead-ins for Dick Powell's "Zane Grey Theater."

Interpreting The News

How Big a Blow Has Russia Struck?

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Will the United States, newly aware of the dangers of lack of coordination, now be able to do something to prevent one hand from undoing what the other is trying to do?

What will be the effect of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's threats on the free world defense system?

In the great welter of questions surrounding the reconnaissance plane incident, these are outstanding.

The State Department has been trying to keep up smooth relations with the Soviet Union pending a summit conference.

Both the Central Intelligence Agency and the Air Force intelligence appear to have been in the habit of conducting operations over Soviet territory, without conferring with the State Department.

Yet there is no evidence so far that the State Department made any effort to obtain an intermission in these activities when the summit conference was agreed upon, although that would appear to have been vitally important to a program of smooth relations. Nor does the State Department position appear to have seeped through to the other agencies.

It is possible that this seeming lack of coordination is due to lack of public knowledge, and that decisions actually were made. It may have been argued that it was a good thing to keep up pressure, to emphasize to the Soviet Union the dangers of not producing some real lessening of tensions. If so, the matter is then moved into the field of judgment, the results of which lay any such decisions open to serious question.

The answer to the second question lies largely in the hands of others. Khrushchev's earlier missile threats against countries supplying bases to the United States were in the nature of a warning about what would happen if there should be a war. Now he threatens to break the very tenuous peace in retaliation against any more reconnaissance flights.

Some governments are already insisting that Soviet territory is not being violated from their bases. They will have to maintain this position in dealing with the United States whether it is true or not. And they will be joined by others.

In their nervousness, they also are likely to demand that the United States keep well away from Communist borders. Some may want the Air Force to get out entirely.

This promises to severely hamper intelligence work, as well as to lessen the deterrent value of quick-striking forces available for retaliation against Soviet attack.

When Khrushchev couldn't talk about the aerial reconnaissance without admitting Soviet inability to defend herself, he was handicapped. Now he has been enabled to strike an important blow against the American bases system, long a Soviet phobia.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Labor of Love . . .

Back Home . . .

★ TUTOR—The Mercury, Monday printed a photo of first communicants of St. Columbkill's Catholic church, Boyertown. Missing from the picture was Mrs. Lawrence Bauer, Sixth and Walnut streets, Boyertown. It would have been fitting, however, for Mrs. Bauer to have been with the 18 youngsters. For it is she who inculcated religion into them when they were just 6 years old. Mrs. Bauer, in fact, has explained religious teachings to nearly 300 children in the past 20 years. She only had one pupil then, four the next year and 10 by 1942. Her biggest class was 22 youngsters in 1954. Although Mrs. Bauer counts the number of graduates from her catechetical class starting in 1940, she began religious teaching at St. Columbkill's in 1930. That work was sporadic for the following decade. Her husband, incidentally, has been an usher at St. Columbkill's since the parish began in 1922. . .

THE COUPLE has no children. Mrs. Bauer said one of the greatest joys from her teachings came from the number of Mother's Day cards she received. "I bet I get at least a dozen cards for Mother's Day and I always receive about twice that number on my birthday." She has attended 15 weddings of her "graduates" and Mrs. Bauer and her husband (he works at Boyertown Auto Body), have been named godparents six times by persons grateful for early religious training. Keeping tabs on hundreds of graduates is very difficult for 62 year old Mrs. Bauer. "Despite the hardship of counting noses, I never heard of one former pupil of mine ever being in trouble with the law," she said. How does she manage such a record? "By instilling in children a respect for the Ten Commandments and a firsthand start in the power of prayer," said Mrs. Bauer.

★ RETURN—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Campbell have returned home—after a 25 year "visit" to Westfield, N.J. The Campbells, natives of Pottstown, vowed when they left for business reasons a quarter century ago they would return. Campbell moved to Westfield in 1935 to join his brother Andrew in the steel barrel business. "I was 70 years old last November," he explains, "and I thought it was time I retired. We always knew that someday we would return to Pottstown. Many of my wife's and my relatives live here. It was always just a visit to Westfield, and this was our home town." In Westfield, he was vice president and treasurer of Eastern Steel Barrel corporation, Container Ring Company, incorporated, Ply-Fiber Container corporation and Eaco Realty corporation. He was also secretary and treasurer of the E and C Holding company, and a leading member of the Steel Shipping Container Institute of New York and the Rotary club of Bound Brook, N.J.

TRANSACTION—Raymond C. Hartenstine Jr., son of the Sunnybrook ballroom proprietor, is in the midst of negotiations to purchase a large red sandstone home at 1028 High street. Hartenstine says he expects settlement "within another 30 or 60 days." If all goes as expected, he should be moving in with his wife and nine month old daughter by the end of the Summer. The Hartenstines are currently living at 993 Hale street. The High street house is being sold by the Security Trust company and Elmer E. Saylor, co-executor of the estate of the late Rebekah B. Block. Negotiations are being handled through Robert W. Evans, realtor, in cooperation with Adam Warner.

★ CLOSING BUSINESS—Ira B. Trate, for almost 30 years an estimable Pottstown industrial executive and businessman, is closing his luggage shop at 22 North Evans street. He will devote his full time to his advertising business of selling novelties, calendars, executive gifts, business remembrances and the like. Trate came to Pottstown in 1932 as manager of the Personal Finance company. In 1935 he went with Pottstown Thrift, remaining for eight years. He then was works manager of the Pottstown Manufacturing company for 12 years. He opened his luggage store in 1955. His new business will keep him on the road, but he'll keep his home at 259 Maplewood drive. . Stanley Chaplin Jr., former Pottstown High school football star who's now a first lieutenant and jet plane pilot in the US air force, got to spend his 26th birthday Tuesday with his parents because of a switch in bases. He's a son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Chaplin, proprietors of the Black Angus Inn, Ludwig's Corner. Chaplin Jr. was transferred from Sioux City, Iowa, to the Shaw Airforce base, S.C. He expects to be sent overseas after a tour of duty there.

Your Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

VACCINATION against smallpox is required of children in most communities before they enter school.

Smallpox vaccinations must be given again later in life. Ask your doctor when he thinks it is advisable.

And here are a few good rules to follow when your child is vaccinated.

The vaccination will require no special care until there is evidence that it is effective. We call this a "take."

Generally, a "take" will appear on the fourth or fifth day after the vaccination is administered. Evidence that the vaccination has taken is the appearance of a small blister.

When this blister appears, apply a three-by-three inch sterile gauze dressing to the site and change it each day. The dressing should comprise about four or five layers of gauze.

Fasten it in place with two quarter-inch strips of adhesive tape, one at each end of the bandage.

Saturate each new dressing by pouring half a teaspoonful of pure alcohol on the gauze.

Be sure you don't get the vaccination wet until the scab falls off. Usually, this will occur in about five or six weeks.

Since scratching may lead to increased scarring, it is suggested that you keep long sleeves on the child until the scab disappears.

Tony's Friend Jacqui Not Sad Over Event

LONDON (AP) — Antony Armstrong-Jones' friend, actress Jacqui Chan, said today: "He is my friend and I'm happy that he is happy. How could I be anything else?"

How about those reports that Armstrong-Jones' engagement and marriage to Princess Margaret plunged Jacqui into gloom and despair?

"I'm not sad, and I haven't been sad," she said with a warm smile, "because there's nothing to be sad about."

"Marriage is a happy event and you never get sad when people marry."

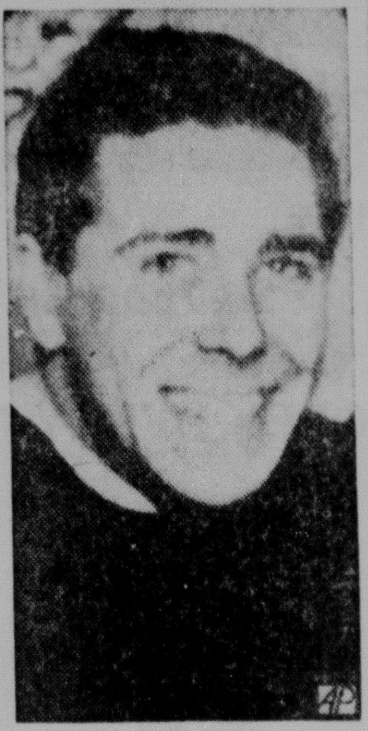
She met Tony, the former professional photographer, three years ago. They got to know one another increasingly well. In Tony's book, "London," Jacqui appears twice. One of his photographic studies of her occupies a full page.



ANTONY

"He was a very good photographer," said Jacqui. "He had a great gift for seeing the new and original—the subject that was different."

* * *

Before the wedding she refused to talk to reporters.

"But now that the wedding is over, the situation has changed," she observed.

"I'm an actress after all. I'm appearing before the public every night in 'The World of Suzie Wong.' I'm making a movie of it, so I suppose it would be rather strange of me never to be interviewed."

Jacqui was fashionably dressed in a two-piece tailored suit that clung to her every curve. She wore no makeup, except heavily penciled eyebrows accenting her Oriental eyes. Her mother is Chinese, her father part-Russian and part-Chinese.

The 22-year-old beauty said she first met Tony after she got a part in the London version of "The Teahouse of the August Moon."

Jacqui often helped at his parties.

"Those parties of his—I've been amused to read how they were Bohemian and wild."

"Weren't they?"

"No," she replied, "so far as I know there were never any wild ones. So far as I know, he prefers a quiet party with a few friends."

She has been called Jackie, but she explained her name is Jacqueline and she prefers Jacqui if her friends want to use a diminutive.

She would like a shot at Hollywood and some day write a book.

"About the great romance?"

"Maybe," she replied, "if I could do it with dignity and interest."

"Do you intend to get married someday or go on acting"

"I intend to get married and to go on acting," she laughed.

"Is there anybody on the scene right now?"

"No, not a soul," she said.

'Before, After' Record Broken

CARLISLE, (AP)—The girls are all buzzing about what happened to Patricia Gale King, of Carlisle. It's enough to make any overweight gal sit up from her sit-up and take notice.

Miss King was visiting friends Monday when she climbed on the household reducing gadget. A friend turned on the switch, starting the automatic shake, rattle and roller. The friend couldn't turn the machine off and called for help.

To the rescue came Miss king's mother who stopped the machine. To Carlisle hospital went Miss King. She weighed in at 26 pounds, two less than usual. Aside from a bruised foot, she was in tip-top shape.

And besides, she had lost 7 percent of her poundage in one quick reducing machine treatment. Any wonder the girls are talking about the 4 year old?

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Come with me to the Casbah" has been following and plaguing actor Charles Boyer for years.

The only problem is that he never said it.

Charles Boyer

He says movie-goers think of him as the lover who is always kissing hands and being gallant.

"I would say that this has harmed me," Boyer says. "I would say it has kept me away from a lot of parts. And even when I played other parts people see me differently."

He recently completed a long run on Broadway in "The Marriage-Go-Round." His next movie part is in "Fanny" for Warner Brothers, to be filmed in his native France.

Highways Full of Gynalaterophobists

CHARLESTOWN, Ind. (AP) — Dr. J. E. Schmidt seems determined to make up all the words the Greeks missed.

How would the ancients, for instance, have labeled someone who is afraid of women drivers?

"Gynalaterophobist" is the word coined by Schmidt. Simply a matter of coming up with the right Greek, Latin and other language roots, he says.

The mild, bespectacled bachelor estimates he has coined up to 6000 new words, mainly in the medical field.

SCHMIDT FORMERLY practiced psychiatry in Baltimore and industrial medicine at an arsenal near her. He shelved both professions to coin words and write technical dictionaries.

Life is lonelier now, but Schmidt is happy he made the change.

"I'm more satisfied with what I'm doing," he says. "After all, I'm the only medical lexicographer in the world who works full time. If I didn't do it, it wouldn't get done."

Crammed in two rooms of files at Schmidt's home are 300,000 words—the raw material of several books he has written and a dozen he has contracted to write.

MANY WORDS will be used in "Reverscion" — a backwards dictionary.

"Much of the time a person can't use an ordinary dictionary because he doesn't know the word he wants to look up," Schmidt says. "So why not look up the idea or meaning and find the word for it right there?"

He already has carried out the idea in "Reverscion: A Medical Word Finder."

Turning a page at random you'd find: "Marriage, excessive craving for . . . Gamomania."

What caused Schmidt's excessive craving for words?"

"I was born in Latvia, a polygot nation. My father spoke 12 languages. That's part of the background.

"But except to say I'm absolutely obsessed with vocabulary, there's no explanation. Anyone who could explain wouldn't be doing this kind of work."

DEDICATION IS PLANNED BY FIREMEN

12:30 p. m. At that time a mounted review will be held, with all trucks present at the affair driving through the township.

The dedication program will get underway at 2 p. m.

Speakers will include Richard Moser, Pottstown fire chief; Sgt. Edward Mays of the State police fire marshal's office, Philadelphia; Harold Wentzel, district fire marshal; Russell Mogel, assistant fire chief, Reading; John F. Prout Sr., secretary of the Upper Pottsgrove board of supervisors; Raymond Schaeffer, company fire chief; and Robert John, head engineer of the Upper Pottsgrove Fire company.

THE REV. Howard A. Kosman, pastor of Zion's Reformed church, will give the invocation and benediction.

The two-story, 20 foot long addition was completed in January. It contains a hall on the second floor. The first floor is an extension of the company's social quarters.

John Kulp, Obelisk, was the contractor.

The addition, according to Mace, was necessitated by the company's rapid growth.

The Upper Pottsgrove Fire company was started in September of 1948. At that time it had a "mere handful of members."

Today's membership role of 565 does not take into account the auxiliary, which Mace says is "a very important part of the team."

• • •

MACE CREDITS the auxiliary with providing an "immeasurable boost" to the drives that resulted in both the new addition and the new pumper.

"The ladies have bought many pieces of equipment for us that we couldn't do without," he says. "Just recently they gave the company a smoke ejector."

In addition to Mace, other officers of the company are: Harvey Bouchter, president; Lloyd Eagle, vice president; Raymond Stichter, secretary, Elwood Meeker, treasurer.

Members of the board of directors are: Harvey Mace, chairman, Eagle, Ernest Boyer, George Bitting and Emerson Kirlin Sr.

Local Optimists Tour Flagg Company Plant

Eighteen members of the Lower Pottsgrove Optimist club toured the Stanley G. Flagg company plant in Stowe Tuesday night after a brief meeting at the Blossom restaurant, Route 663.

Lewis Shadler, William Hartenstine and George Shultz were guests of the club.

Earle Hausman, president, was in charge of the meeting. The club will observe Ladies night at its next meeting May 24.

YOUNGSTER CUT

bright, Schwenksville, and Ronald W. Yerkes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Yerkes, Spring Mount.

Miss Cope plans to attend Wilson college, Chambersburg, where she has enroled in the liberal arts curriculum. The college conferred upon her a Sarah Wilson scholarship (without stipend) in recognition of her high school record and achievement on the College Entrance examinations. On the examination in English, she made a perfect score, although the test was taken in the spring of her junior year in high school.

In high school, she has been varsity goalie for the girls' hockey team for three years. She was editor-in-chief of the school paper last year and is assistant editor of the yearbook.

MISS FRY has been accepted for admission to the West Chester State college where she plans to prepare for a career in music education. In addition to vocal work, she plays both piano and organ. She is also a member of the yearbook staff. Miss Fry has attended the Schwenksville school from first grade through the twelfth.

Miss Williams is considering chemistry as her college major at Ursinus college. Among her activities she has been a cheerleader for three years and a member of the Glee club. This year she is senior class treasurer and a member of the yearbook staff.

Waddel will enter Gettysburg college in September where he will enrol in the liberal arts curriculum. Since entering Schwenksville in the eighth grade, Waddel has shown great interest in sports. This Spring he took a leading part in the senior play, "Dear Ruth."

Miss Sprawls will attend Pottstown Business school and study the secretarial course.

Miss Rawn, will study elementary education at West Chester State college. Following graduation she plans to teach.

Albright plans to major in chemical engineering at Drexel Institute of technology, Philadelphia.

Yerkes will also attend the Drexel institute to study civil engineering. During school he will take ROTC training and following graduation complete his military obligation in the Navy.

ARMY PLANS TO CLOSE GI PROBE subscribed.

"Obviously," the Army added, " . . . the name of the dog was not secured from a clipping service."

"Please be advised," the Army continued in its letter to Congressman LaFore, "that the Department of the Army caused an investigation at Fort Knox, Ky., in an attempt to discover who furnished the name of the dog to the insurance company. It is regretted that the investigation did not uncover any evidence as to how the name was transmitted.

The long, involved procedure from the time a soldier decides to ship a package until the package arrives at its destination allows many persons the time to copy the names on the shipping tickets, the Army said.

The letter stated:

"Military personnel (in this case, a six-month trainee) fill out shipping tags, affix same to their parcel, and the parcel is taken to the supply room. Representatives of Railway Express pick up these parcels at supply rooms, and the parcels are taken to the Railway Express office for a day, or perhaps as long as a week, while the appropriate shipping papers are prepared. These papers are then returned to the military member's organization. The parcels are then shipped to Louisville, and trans-shipped to the addressees."

The letter to Congressman LaFore was signed by Brig. Gen. H. A. Gerhardt, deputy chief of legislative liaison.

Auto Strikes Boy Riding Bicycle

A 13 year old area bicyclist was injured Tuesday evening when he was struck by a car on Old Gibraltar road three miles west of Birdsboro.

George Gensemer, Birdsboro RD 1, suffered a deep cut of the right leg. He was taken to Community General hospital, Reading, by an unidentified motorist. He was released after treatment.

According to State police, the boy was hit by a car driven by Earl Wilkis, Birdsboro RD 1.

Trooper Louis Viloa of the Reading barracks investigated.

Joseph L. Prince, president of the Pottstown High 12 club, reported on the State convention at a noon meeting Tuesday in the Elks home. The convention was Saturday in Norristown.

Prince said the Pottstown club has been commissioned to form High 12 clubs in Reading, Allentown and Bethlehem.

He also said the 1961 State convention will be in Pottstown.

Two new members were received into the club. They are Morris W. Miller and Warren DeLong.

Seventy - two members attended the meeting.

The next meeting will be May 24.

Local Kiwanians Hear High School Choir

The Pottstown Senior High school choir under the direction of Edward F. O'Neill entertained 65 members of the Pottstown Kiwanis club at a meeting in the Elks home Tuesday night.

Thomas Nicholson was in charge of the program.

Willard Bickel, president, was in charge of the meeting.

WORKER CUT

Levi Doaty, Birdsboro, suffered a cut of the little finger on his left hand Tuesday morning while working at Mrs. Smith's Pie company. He was treated at Pottstown hospital and released after eight stitches were used to close the wound.

IF COMPANY punishment is decided on Connelly will decide on the punishment.

Under Pennsylvania Military regulations 23-10, a man can be held for military authorities for missing eight unexcused drills during three months. A man can be excused for sickness but drills must be made up, Connelly said.

Connelly will talk today with Col. Thomas R. White, Philadelphia, an active guardsman and Connelly's immediate superior to see if Mars should be released until his hearing Tuesday.

"The Government has spent almost $6000 on him during his six months training and if a man is not willing to live up to his bargain something must be done," Connelly said.

A reservist under the six month active duty contract, must be on active reserve duty for three years and is required to attend drill every Tuesday night unless the man is sick or is absent with leave.

Connelly said Mars disregarded several letters sent to him by the company to explain his absence from drills. "We called him quite a number of times, but he just ignored everything. There's a lot of give and take in the company, but some men you can't reason with," he said.

"Under my command this is the first time I've ever had to enforce the law this far," Connelly said.

'Year of Church Music' Will Be Cantata Theme

RED HILL—Mrs. Calvin Reed, corr. Phone OR 9-7675. Miller's News Agency, Del., Phone OR 9-7467

"Music In the Church Year", will be the theme of the cantata to be presented Sunday by the Senior choir of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Red Hill, at the regular worship hour.

Assisting the Senior choir will be the Youth choirs directed by Mrs. Betty Mensch, a Sunday school orchestra also under her direction, and the young men of the brass and reed chorus, directed by Mrs. Mildred Genzler.

The men's chorus will be featured in one number and several solos will be a part of the varied program. Greetings to the congregation will be brought by John Bright, Lafayette college student from Liberia, Africa.

Mrs. Anna Bolton, director of the Senior choir, revealed this week that the idea of the cantata presentation is to show the congregation the various moods of the church year in song, varying from the somber and solemn minor strains of the Lenten season, to the joyous exuberance of the Easter and Christmas celebrations.

All of the music will be familiar and well loved anthems and hymns.

MARGY WETZEL will join her father, organist Warren Wetzel, for a piano-organ duet as the offertory.

Soloists in the program will be: Ernest Brendlinger, Janet Rader, Harold Faut, Earl Roth, Anna Bolton and Gayla Wismer. Accompanists are: Warren Wetzel, Doris Gebert, Mildred Genzler, Mary Genzler, Jayne Walker, Mary Wolf, and Richard Wismer.

Members of the men's chorus are Leroy Leister, Earl Roth, Ernest Brendlinger, Gary Kolb, Harold Faut, Linwood Genzler, Frank Brinkman and Theodore E. Getz.

The brass and reed chorus is composed of Larry Benner, Lewis Gaul, Richard and David Genzler, John Henry, Gary Kolb, Robert Mensch and Barton Rader.

The offering received during the cantata will be turned over to the Senior choir and be applied to its current project which is providing new carpeting for the choir and nave of the church.

Recently completed was the erection of an illuminated cross as a memorial to all departed members of the choir. It is found on the southwest end of the new building superimposed over the marble and granite cross imbedded in the masonry wall.

Pickering Valley Women's Club Meets at Moore Home in Eagle

LUDWIGS CORNER — Mrs. H. J Ash, Corr., Phone Glenview 8-5245 For Delivery Phone Glenview 8-5219, Lile McDonald.

The Pickering Valley Women's club met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Moore, Eagle.

Present were: Mrs. Samuel Acker, Mrs. Jacob Dewees, Mrs. John Fleck, Mrs. Norman Frank, Mrs. Forrest Gottier, Mrs. Frank Gottier, Mrs. Leo Hughes, Mrs. George Lumis, Mrs. Charles Stanford, Mrs. Leland Stanford, Mrs. Jonathan Styer, Mrs. Kenneth Wheatley, Mrs. Richard Wheatley, and a guest, Mrs. Nancy Hurst.

The annual June banquet will be Wednesday evening, June 1 at 7, at the Collegeville Inn, Collegeville.

The election of officers will take place also. Each committee will be asked to report on its activities for the past year.

THE PRESIDENT appointed the nominating committee: Mrs. George Lumis, chairman; Mrs. John Fleck and Mrs. Ralph Moore.

William Dwier showed two films, supplied by the Bell Telephone company. One — "The Three Furies" — concerned hurricans Carol, Edna, and Hazel and the immediate action of the telephone company to aid the New England states and areas which were stricken by these storms.

Second — visit to a model home.

Refreshments of party sandwiches, date bars, brownies, meringue kisses, assorted cookies, mints, coffee, and tea were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Alton Reed, Mrs. Wilbur McQueen and Mrs. Moore.

Red Hill Church To Emphasize World Relief

RED HILL—Mrs. Calvin Reed, corr. Phone OR 9-7675. Miller's News Agency, Del., Phone OR 9-7467.

Lutheran World action and Lutheran World relief will be emphasized in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Red Hill, this week as the local congregation joins hundreds of other Lutheran churches throughout the nation in observing LWA Sunday.

In St. Paul's the major emphasis will be brought to the Sunday school through the appearance of John Bright, a student at Lafayette college, Easton. Bright is a native of Liberia, Africa, studying in the U. S. under the Point IV program of the United States office of Education.

Bright will speak at 9 a. m. to the Nursery and Kindergarten departments of the Sunday school in the auditorium, speaking of his homeland, Liberia, where the United Lutheran church has been active in missionary activities for many years.

Bright is a Sophomore civil engineering student at Lafayette who has had a number of years experience working for the division of highways of Liberia, a position which enabled him to see a great deal of his country.

Flagpole Erected By Lions Club

EAST GREENVILLE—Victor Stahl, Tel. OR 9-7264. Lester M. Miller, Del. Tel. OR 9-7467

A 30 foot flagpole has been erected at the Upper Perkiomen recreation council swimming pool, East Greenville, a donation from the Perkiomen Valley Lions club.

The project, completed at a cost of $345 to the local civic group, also includes a four-by-six foot American flag. An appropriate plaque at the base of the pole names the Lions club as donors of the project.

A recent bakeless cake sale staged by the Upper Perkiomen band boosters, has netted $760 to date, according to an announcement by Raymond P. Erb, president of the club. The campaign was staged with the co-operation of the band members, parents and friends. A final tabulation on the drive will be heard at the meeting of the boosters Monday at 8 p. m., in the high school music room.

The Guernsey Calf club met at the home of Tom and Harry Emery for a discussion on judging and feeding dairy cattle. Advisors were Harold Pyle and Frank Bortz from the Chester County 4-H club.

Present were: Norma and Elaine Beard, Robert Kirtner, Edith Dunn, Mary, Eric, Phyllis, Christopher and Kathleen Deets, and a new member, Jane Young.

Parents present were: Mrs. Erma Kirtner, Mrs. Norman Beard, Mrs. Robert Dunn, Mrs. Richard Deets and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Emery.

New officers serving are: President, Mary Deets; vice president, Harry Emery; secretary, Robert Kirtner; news reporters, Norma Beard and Glenn Fulmer; county counsel representative, Thomas Emery.

The Rev. Richard E. Dettrey, pastor of St. Matthew's United Church of Christ, gave a sermon titled, "The Paradox of Power." A Mother's Day anthem was presented by the Junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Paul Dilworth and accompanied by Mrs. Harley Shoemaker.

SEVERAL MEMBERS enjoyed a covered dish supper and a program on "family living," directed by the Junior High class, taught by Nevin Myer. A film strip, entitled, "Playing It Square in the Family," was shown.

The Rev. and Mrs. Dettrey motored to New York with members of the Confirmation class for a sight seeing trip. Highlights were the Empire State building, Central park, and Riverside church. Making the trip were: Gail Dilworth, Doris Wenger, Kenneth Myer, William Francis, Barry Reitnour, Charles Pepple and Harold Firestone Jr.

Pvt. Allen Edward Popjoy, Upper Uwchlan, has completed a course at Fort Knox and been transferred to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, for an eight week course as a medical clerk.

Jack Dettrey is absent from school, due to a case of mumps. Terry Deputy Jr., Ludwig's Corner, has returned home after a tonsil operation.

Christian Family Is Sermon Topic

BROWNBACK'S, SEVEN STARS AREA—Phone HY 5-6275, Lile McDonald, Del., Phone Glenview 8-5219.

"Are You Contributing to the Deterioration of the Christian Family?" That was the question asked by the Rev. Vernon E. Firme at morning worship in Brownback's United Church of Christ Sunday morning.

Daily Vacation Bible school will be June 20 to July 1 in Bethel Methodist church for children of the Brownback's and Bethel churches.

A special consistory meeting of the church is set for tonight at 8 o'clock.

Herbert Davis will be ordained at Brownback's church Sunday evening June 12.

League to Send Taped Greetings

RED HILL—Mrs. Calvin Reed, corr. Phone OR 9-7675. Miller's News Agency, Del., Phone OR 9-7467.

President Dale Johnson announced after the regular meeting of the Luther League of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Red Hill, that tape recorded greetings will be sent to members of the league of Islip Terrace, L. I., next week. The recording will be made immediately after the Sunday school hour Sunday.

In other action at the meeting Jayne Walker was elected secretary to succeed Joanne Leister, who resigned recently.

It was announced that a league dance will be held at Swamp church, New Hanover, on Friday, May 20, beginning at 8 p. m.

Speaker for Sunday evening's meeting was the Rev. Orville Miller, pastor of Pennsburg United Church of Christ His theme was the doctrine and practices of the Evangelical and Reformed church, the third in a series of topics by the local league on "Comparative Religions".

YOUNG MEN who have been confirmed as adults members of the congregation were issued an invitation to become active members of the usher's group of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Red Hill, through the church council's worship committee.

Heading the group at the appointment of council is James Sell of Red Hill. Sell has called for a meeting this Sunday after church service, to which all young men of the congregation are invited.

The ushers' group will be reorganized as to its membership and functions, it was announced by Sell.

Enrolment for the 1960 Vacation church school at St. Paul's Lutheran church will be conducted Sunday during the Sunday school hour.

The purpose of this advanced enrolment is to gather facts as to the expected size of this year's school, scheduled for June 13 to 24, so that sufficient pupils' materials may be ordered in advance.

Director Mrs. Betty Mensch stated last week that failure to enrol on May 15 would not exclude a child from attending the school, but the advanced enrolment is a distinct advantage from the point of view of the various department superintendents in planning their space and teacher requirements.

A local workshop in preparation for the school is planned for May 26.

AIRPORT AID DISCUSSED BY PANEL

dustrial reasons.

The committee stressed the "recognized need for a community to have its own adequate airport, rather than to lease one."

Discussions revealed that a community "can not put its economic future into a privately owned airport, which could be sold or changed at any time."

A REPORT also stated that "the story of privately owned airports is a history of failures."

Barton K. Whitman, committee chairman, underscored "the necessity for Pottstown to have an airport as close to borough limits as possible."

He explained that the nearness of airport facilities to a community is "recognized nationally."

Whitman also stressed that airports which carry approval from Federal and State aviation agencies afford the greatest safety. The municipal airport in Stowe would fit that category.

WHITMAN ALSO noted that the Stowe airport is publicly subsidized. Under those conditions, it can not be given up by Pottstown until another suitable location is built.

"But I think the Stowe airport is the most suitable in the greater Pottstown area," remarked Whitman.

A report was read from William McFarland, executive director of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics commission. The report stated, "The Stowe site is best for an airport in your area."

Another report, based on an investigation of facilities in Limerick, stated it is "unwise" to move Pottstown's airport needs to that township.

J. WAYNE KNAUSE, president of borough council, said the Stowe airport was a financial liability tc Pottstown for about 10 years, but now creates revenue.

He noted, however, that "most airports are never built for great porfit making. They are defense, or in our case, economic necessities for future well being," he said.

Robert H. McKinney Jr., borough manager, declared, "According to budgets and master plans, Pottstown already has spent its share for improved airport facilities.

"The borough would lose the advantage of $18,000 spent for engineering if future developments, paid by the Federal and State governments, does not continue," he explained.

WHETHER Government aid will come to Pottstown will be decided at next Tuesday's meeting in Harrisburg.

Explaining why Pottstown needs improved airport facilities in Stowe will be Knause, McKinney, Whitman, Burgess John B. Hartenstine Jr., John Basco, airport manager, engineers and lawyers.

These men will declare that despite heavy industries in this area, the Stowe airport is closed several weeks each year due to a lack of adequate runways. The closing creates an industrial hardship.

What is needed, according to the airport committee, is a 2700 foot runaway that is paved and has proper lighting. Large commercial and private planes could use the airport under those conditions.

Pottstonians Are Undaunted By Approaching Friday 13th

supposed to have begun on Friday; and the day God scrambled the languages of man was supposed to have been Friday.

The number of guests at Christ's Last Supper numbered 13 and Christ was crucified on a Friday, adding to the dislike for the infrequently occuring Friday the 13th.

ONE WHO should be even more wary than Miss Moletress is Mrs. Hettie Houck, of 226 South Hanover street — for she was born on a Friday the 13th.

"But I've always been very lucky," the 88 year old woman reports, "so I've never had to become superstitious."

Her answer sounded strangely like "balderdash when she was asked whether she was going to stay in bed Friday rather than tempt the fates.

Mary Louise Bradley feels that May 13th is a real lucky day each year — even if it does fall on a Friday.

For this Friday is also the 19th birthday of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bradley, of 825 Spruce street.

"I was born on a Tuesday," Miss Bradley explains, "so I guess I was never affected. It's a real lucky day for me, and there isn't a black cat around that could scare me on my birthday."

Mrs. Mary Browne, of 35 East Second street, escaped the Friday the 13th curse by being born on Saturday.

She claims she isn't superstitious, but admits that she doesn't take any unnecessary chances—like walking under step ladders or breaking a mirror.

Despite all the denials by people that they are not superstitions, economists report that enough people stay home on Friday the 13th to cost a loss of business valued at $250,000,000.

Housewife Plans Missionary Junket

the missions of the Christian church to the extent it is hoped she will be able to tell others how missions are helping out Latin American neighbors.

MRS. KEELEY is well known at Boyer and Son shoe store where she works. Her boss is giving her a month off to allow her to satisfy her curiosity and answer the educational needs of church congregations" when she gets back.

Mrs. Keeley has never been out of the country. "The best I did was California . . . last year," she says. The Keeley's go to Brownback's Evangelical and Reformed United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Keeley has always been interested in missions, and was always inspired by missionaries who visited her church to tell about their work.

One of these missionaries, who Mrs. Keeley will visit during her trip, is the Rev. Paul Streich, from Fleetwood. The Rev. Streich, now in Ecuador, visited here last year and "threw out the hint" which led Mrs. Keeley to join the party of 20 men and women who will make the "missionary visit."

ANOTHER WORKER for the church in Honduras, Central America, is Elisa Vargas, who visited Brownback's church and the Keeley's home last year. Mrs. Keeley hopes to renew this friendship during the trip also.

Mrs. Keeley has agreed to make the trip—at her own expense—because she is anxious to see the missionaries work in the first person.

She has been studying literature "for months" about the countries she will visit. She hopes this will help her explain more clearly and efficiently when she returns the work being done in the Latin American countries.

Mrs. Keeley will take pictures so she can show slides when she returns.

The trip, sponsored by the Churchmen's Brotherhood and the Department of Missionary Education of the Evangelical and Reformed church, starts in Chicago July 14. Mrs. Keeley expects to travel to the Windy City with Jean Graham, a beautician at the Fifth Avenue Beauty salon, 27 North Hanover street. Miss Graham will be vacationing at that time and arranged the lift.

FROM CHICAGO by plane, Mrs. Keeley will fly down through Mexico, Guatemala, Honduras (spending five days with missionaries there), the Canal Zone (taking a tour of the Panama canal), and Costa Rica.

She will spend another five days in Guyaquil and Quito, Ecuador with other missionaries, flying back to Chicago August 10.

The trip is sponsored by her church each year, and is called a "foreign mission tour." There is also a "national mission tour," and another going to Europe.

Stanley Wilke, of the Department of Missionary Education, St. Louis, is in charge of the 20 traveling men and women who come from all over the United States.

Six of these persons are from Pennsylvania, and this particular area is well represented. Besides Mrs. Keeley, Ruth Landis, of 117 North Walnut street, Boyertown, is also making the trip. "I don't know her," said Mrs. Keeley, "but I intend to by the time we start out."

Since Mrs. Keeley seemingly neglected to mention how she was getting back from Chicago, she was asked to wrap up her adventure. "I don't know how I'm going to get back. . . I'll worry about that when I get into Chicago on the way home." Her family thinks highly of their footloose "mom's" plans. They'll all hold down the fort until the adventurer gets home.

three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Bella Yoch, Newark, N. J.; Mrs. Florence Jones, 53 North Hanover street; Alberta, wife of Samuel Romano, Irvington, N. J.; Clarence C. Shingle, 248 Washington street, Royersford; and William L., of 1014 Queen street.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 2 p. m. from the Skean funeral home, 404 High street. The Rev. Wallace D. Flood, pastor of the First Baptist church, will officiate.

Interment will be in the Parker Ford Baptist cemetery.

Youth Recommended Held for Grand Jury

A Coroner's jury yesterday recommended that Robert Berry, 18, of Schwenksville, RD 1, be held for the Berks county Grand jury in the death of Paul R. Smith, 48, of Amityville.

Smith was dead on arrival at Memorial hospital, Saturday, April 23, after he was struck by a car driven by Berry. The victim was unloading fishing gear from the rear of his station wagon.

The accident happened on Route 422, a half mile west of Douglassville, according to Amity township Police Chief Howard Hemmig.

The inquest was conducted before Dr. John C. Simpson, Montgomery county coroner.

Bible Group Elects, Installs New Officers

The Pottstown Federation of Men's Bible classes elected and installed new officers for the coming year at a meeting Tuesday night in the Second Baptist church

The new officers are: Merrill Umstead, First Methodist church, president: Ralph Baldwin, Emmanuel Lutheran church, first vice president; Irvin K. Hauseman, First Brethren church, second vice president; Rayel Geschwind, New Hanover Lutheran church, third vice president.

Also Albert B. Reichenbach, St. John's United Church of Christ, secretary; Newstell Marable, Bethel AME, first assistant secretary.

Also: William Kummerer Sr., Searles Memorial Methodist church, second assistant secretary; Bertram Scanlin, Zion's Reformed United Church of Christ, treasurer; Leo Hudson, Second Baptist church, first assistant treasurer; John Stubanus, St. James Lutheran church, second assistant treasurer; Eugene Hohl, Cedarville Methodist church, chorister; Charles Frymoyer, Trinity Evangelical Congregational church, assistant chorister; the Rev. Wallace D. Flood, pastor of the First Baptist church, chaplain; the Rev. Forrest H. Worten, pastor of the Bethel AME church, assistant chaplain.

The Rev. Marshall Lee, pastor of St. Paul's Baptist church, Conshohoken, spoke on "Panacea for a Troubled World."

He said that European countries test pupils at different levels of their education and select 20 percent for higher education. The rest are sent to technical school, he said.

IN THE United States every child is educated to the best of the childs ability. But he said, the biggest problem in Europe is not being able to educate the "late bloomers," or pupils that develop late in the education field.

Presiding was Walter S. Cassel, president of the Montgomery County School board. The invocation was given by Claude Kulp, a member of the Schwenksville Union School district.

Directors from the Pottsgrove Joint School board attending were: W. Drexel Pierce, president; Forrest Ginder, secretary; Donald Kulp, vice president; John Kurtz; Michael Petrick; Harry J. Pollock; David Scherer Jr., Mrs. Clair S. Burdan.

Also, George Needhammer; Robert Petrilla; Stanley Boyer, and John LaPish.

The Pottstown school district is an independent district and is not a member of the association.

Coroner Lists Death Cause

Dr. John C. Simpson, Montgomery county coroner, said Tuesday 14 year old Laura Ann Updegrove died of internal hydracephalus, a congenital disease more commonly called "water on the brain."

The teen-ager died Monday night as she was being rushed to Memorial hospital by her father and step mother, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Updegrove, Birdsboro RD 2.

She had been ill only one day—a factor Dr. Simpson termed "not unusual" in such cases.

The girl's mother, Mrs. William Biehl, 512 Lincoln avenue, expressed shock Tuesday morning when she learned of Laura Ann's sudden death.

The girl also is survived by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Eva Wagner, Schwenksville RD 1, and her maternal great grandfather, William Dettra, Schwenksville RD 1.

Funeral services will be Friday at 2 p. m. from the Skean Funeral home, 404 High street.

Malcolm M. Downie will be the Jehovah's Witness speaker.

Interment will be in Edgewood cemetery.

Frederick G. Erb Is Re-elected Head of Pottstown Savings, Loan

Frederick G. Erb was re-elected president of the Pottstown Savings and Loan association Monday night at an association meeting in the bank, at North Hanover street.

Other officers re-elected were: Clarence E. Smith, vice president; Elmer E. Saylor, secretary, and George A. Hunsberger, treasurer.

The State Banking department will rule on a consolidation merger involving the association within 60 days, it was reported Tuesday night.

A letter from the State indicating this was read. The association has applied for consolidation with the Red Hill Savings and Loan association, Pennsburg.

THE BOARD expects to move to its temporary location, in the offices housing the N. Douglas Ottinger real estate firm at 232 King street, by mid-July, it was reported.

Present plans call for the association to move into the new Storb Travel agency building, High and Evans streets, in three or four months, according to Erb.

A 4 percent return was paid to stockholders in the past year, Erb reported.

Members of the board of directors re-elected Tuesday were: Willard N. Bickel, Harold E. Binder, Charles R. Gochnaur, E. T. Handley, Earl Himmelberger, Herbert F. Houck, Karl S. Jensen, Herbert R. Maack, Whitney A. Sanders.

C. S. Stouffer, John W. Storb, Erb, Smith, Saylor and Hunsberger.

"We feel that we can better handle the group and do more for the bands and patrol members at home or close enough to permit parents to see their youngsters. We would like for all the parents to see their children march."

The Pottstown school board voted Monday night to discontinue drill teams in the district.

Competing in Washington will be members of the Pottstown Senior and Junior High school bands, the Senior and Junior High drill teams, majorettes and color guards.

About 70 elementary schools in Pottstown and vicinity have been invited to send two children each as representatives of the schools' Safety Patrol clubs. The expense for the elementary pupils of Pottstown will be borne by the Pottstown Safety Patrol auxiliary.

THE FINAL bid for cash and trophy awards by the Pottstown teams will seek to extend a long winning tradition.

Since the first group was taken in 1930 a host of awards has come to teams of the Pottstown district and the area youngsters have never come back without at least one of the top awards. That first trip was made in priavte autos and was led by Mrs. Elizabeth Stevenson (who still heads the Junior High boys drill team), Earl Strange and the late O. C. Beacraft.

THE TOP is area teams is the Junior High drill aggregation. Mrs. Stevenson's unit has brought home 19 first prizes in 29 years of competition and will seek its 9th consecutive first prize Saturday. The awards were won usually in competition with 20 or more Junior High drill teams of states throughout the eastern half of the United States in which the AAA is located.

Pottstown copped 10 prizes last year, including second prizes by both the Senior and Junior High bands, second and third by two Senior High girls drill teams, second by the color guard, and the Junior High drill team's top showing.

Inter-community rivalry may be a prominent factor in this year's session.

Boyertown High will lead the Pennsylvania division in the parade by virtue of four first positions earned last year. The Senior High band, Senior High girls drill team, Senior High division of majorettes, and the head majorette all were adjudged tops in 1959. The majorette was Elaine Snyder who returns to the competition this year.

The Boyertown Senior High division is coached by Arlen Saylor, who copped a second and then a first prize with the Pottstown Junior High band six and seven years ago. For the first time this year Boyertown will have a Junior High drill unit entered, headed up by Frank J. Ferraro.

THE BOYERTOWN teams will go with other members of the Reading district. Also participating as a member of the Reading district will be the Daniel Boone Joint School district in the Birdsboro-Amityville area.

The difficulty involved in transporting the hundreds of youngsters to Washington and back has not prevented AAA officials from planning an interesting two days for the youngsters.

The trip will include rest stops at Dover, Del., both going and coming, and a few hours of sightseeing in Washington have been crowded into the itinerary for Friday and Saturday afternoons.

The youngsters will stay overnight in motels in College Park, Md., Washington, and Alexandria, Va.

One of the biggest attractions of the two-day journey is a Friday night baseball game between the Senators and Yankees in Griffith stadium at which thousands of the parade participants will be guests.

The buses will leave Washington to head home at 4:30 p. m. Saturday.

Although the huge operation has been carried out annually since 1930 with one exception (1945), injury has never resulted to any youngster, according to Strange, one of the organizers of the trip. Competent supervision and months of planning have made the trip so successful, he said.

Coeds Are Convicted Of Cruelty to Animal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Five comely college coeds were convicted Tuesday of cruelty in the drowning of a spider monkey at Fleishhacker Zoo.

As punishment, they were sentenced to spend their free time Saturday's working at the humane society "for a long time to come."

The San Francisco City College students were arrested April 6 at Monkey Island in the zoo.

After a 40 minute hearing, Municipal Judge Leonore Underwood gave the solemn-faced coeds a stern lecture:

"These monkeys could have scratched your eyes out, and ruined whatever beauty you have—if you have any beauty.

"You girls should have something to do to make you remember all your lives what you did to a dumb animal."

The motive for the girls' visit to Monkey Island never was explained. It followed a sorority party.

of St. Francis in Glen Riddle.

Prior to coming to St. Aloysius in August of 1956, Sister Gerald Eileen taught for a year at a Catholic school in Mahanoy City, Schuylkill county.

She has also taught at Catholic schools in Lansdale, Ashland, Allentown and at St. Joseph's Home for Homeless Boys, Philadelphia.

Because a Mother Superior's term usually is for six years, Sister Gerald Eileen expects to stay here only two more years.

Sister Gerald Eileen says she has enjoyed her four years in Pottstown. "I've enjoyed the people very much," she says, "especially the children."

Asked why she chose to become a nun, Sister Gerald Eileen smiles and answers "I was led into the order through the grace of God and the example of the good lives of the sisters."

Plans Are Completed For After Prom Party

Plans have been completed for the annual After-Prom party, to follow the annual Spring-Ford Junior-Senior prom Friday night.

The after-prom activities will begin with a theater party at the new Spring-Ford Senior High school, to be followed by an informal dance and buffet lunch at Spring-Ford country club. Highlight of the theater party in the Senior High school will be the motion picture, "Imitation of Life."

Seven area fire companies will provide lights for the driveway at the Senior High school, and joint area fire police will direct traffic.

Service clubs, business men's associations and the Home and School league are all co-operating to provide help and funds to promote the affair.

G. K. SMITH is chairman of the general committee. Dr. and Mrs. F. P. Watts are co-chairmen to develop plans for the country club dance and buffet. Mr. and Mrs. J. LeRoy Landis head the committee for the theater party at the school.

The committee appointed to act as hosts and hostesses at the country club when the pupils arrive following the prom and theater party includes:

Lodge Planning Convention Trip

In connection with the annual Tall Cedars of Lebanon convention at Atlantic City, N. J., Saturday, Spring City Forest 34 TCL has planned a gala time, including entertainment and dancing.

The Rangers of the Spring City forest will participate in the parade Saturday, which will be one of the highlights of the convention, which opens tomorrow for four days.

Members entitled to vote were asked to attend the Saturday sessions, to support Albert R. Hoffman, past grand tall cedar, for the office of Supreme trustee.

William H. Seal, a past grand tall cedar, and Earl Hunsicker, both of Royersford, are co-chairmen of the committee for party tickets.

Baseball Player Hurt

Ralph W. Hilborn Jr., 16, Royersford, suffered multiple fractures of the left leg Tuesday morning when he fell while playing baseball. He was treated at Memorial hospital, where X-rays were taken and a cast applied to the leg. Hilborn was released after treatment.

Police Asked To Watch for Stray Horse

Royersford police, like police of other towns and cities at times investigate reports of lost children, dogs and cats, parakeets and cattle (a rarity), but Tuesday there was a new one.

A voice on the telephone asked Chief Bryson M. Turner, "Have you found a horse?"

After he was convinced the man wasn't kidding, the chief said that he had not, but he would keep looking.

What would the chief have done with a stray horse if he had found one. The dog pound at the sewage disposal plant affords accommodations for canines, but what to do about a horse?

Well, if they find one, says the chief then the borough probably will look around for a horse pound.

Registration Set For Girl's Softball

Registrations for girls softball will be taken Saturday at 10 a. m., at the Washington street Junior High school field, Royersford.

All girls between 10 and 15 years of age are eligible. Anyone not interested in playing, but would like to keep score or umpire should report at the same time. A call also went out for mothers or young women over 20 who would be interested in managing a softball team to contact Mrs. Jay Morrow before Saturday morning.

Board Hears Forty-third Annual Report Of Pottstown Visiting Nurse Association

The 43d annual report of the Visiting Nurse association was made to directors when they met at the home of board president, Mrs. Robert E. Jeffries, Kepler road, Pottstown RD 3.

Visits for nursing care, maternal and child health, and family health supervision during 1959 totaled 5379.

Forty-six sessions of the Well Baby clinic were held with 307 children cared for in 726 visits; 347 injections of polio vaccine were given. Two hundred fifty-four children received protection from tetanus, whooping cough, diphtheria and smallpox. Physical examinations were given to 95 children.

Under the community service program, 143 families were loaned sick room equipment, 36 families received layettes and clothing. Eight health programs were given for local clubs and church groups.

Observation experiences were provided for 13 student nurses. Plaques to identify homes of handicapped persons, needing help in case of fire or other disaster, were placed at 25 residences.

The volunteer service report showed 13 volunteers served 386 hours at the Well Baby clinic, to prepare hypodermic syringes and in other work. Twenty volunteers served 129 hours in preparation and delivery of Christmas baskets and toys.

Total cost of the above was $24,048. Income from the United Fund, fees and gifts was $25,734.

The organization originally serving the immediate area, now also serves Schwenksville, Upper Pottsgrove, Lower Pottsgrove, West Pottsgrove, Limerick, Upper Frederick, Lower Frederick, New Hanover, east of route 663; North and East Coventry.

During the business session conducted by Mrs. Jeffries, Mrs. James McClurken Jr., chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following slate which was unanimously accepted: president, Mrs. Jeffries; first vice president, Mrs. Walter Schell.

Second vice president, Mrs. Samuel Hardcastle; recording secretary, Mrs. Harold Binder; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Cecil Hancox; treasurer, Mrs. Leonard Huff, and assistant treasurer, Mrs. Charles Bast.

Directors elected for a three-year term are: Mrs. Cecil Hancox, Mrs. Huff, Mrs. James Elliott, Mrs. Jack Wennersten, Mrs. Eugene Ackerman, Mrs. H. Ellis Jones and Mrs. Wilbert F. O'Dell Jr.

The ways and means report was given by Mrs. Binder in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. O'Dell. It was announced the August project will be a play by the Dutch Country Players.

Each chairman gave a summary of last year's activities. Twelve members volunteered to assist with the United Fund drive in the Fall.

Publicity chairman, Mrs. C. S. Leventhal announced a VNA "nurse" in uniform is displayed in the window of headquarters, 69 North Charlotte street.

Leona V. Smith, executive director, reported 512 visits made during April. Nine families borrowed 10 articles from the loan closet and seven families returned eight articles.

Three volunteers gave 10 hours to clean syringes and seven served 40 hours in the Well Baby clinic.

Miss Smith announced a questionnaire has been completed by all staff nurses, relative to a study now being made concerning health services, institutional care and rehabilitation services presently available to residents over 65 years of age.

It is a preliminary study in preparation for the White House conference on aging to take place next year.

Gifts were acknowledged from Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Hancox, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Litvin, Dr. Pauline Pritt and Mrs. Daniel Dinardo.

Mrs. Jeffries served tea following the business session. Mrs. Walter Schell, incoming first vice president, poured.

The tea table was centered with an arrangement of yellow carnations and chrysanthemums and white lazy susans flanked by green candles.

Present were board members: Mrs. Ackerman, Mrs. Binder, Mrs. Bast, Mrs. Howard Buhman, Mrs. Harry L. Christman, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Howard V. Clothes Care
By Maurice Miller
"I am a housewife of limited means, and must make every penny count, so, please tell me, why should I send my winter clothes for summer storage."
That is a good question, the right answer can save you a good many dollars.
Lets suppose you simply take all your family clothing, even brush it well and hang it in a closet or in a top floor room—now here's what you find.
A closed semi-dark closet or warm third floor makes an ideal breeding condition for moths, it isn't always the small yellow insect which does the damage, the larger (about ¾ in.) dark brown field moth is far more destructive if given a chance to enter your house.
Now, sure as apples grow on trees, these moths will find every bit of grease and feed on it, cloth and all, so that when you need your family winterwear again—you'll find yourself to have been penny wise, but pound foolish.
In short, the drycleaning will remove all grease and fat stains, leaving Mr. and Mrs. Moth, hungry.
So, to make your pennies really go farther, use our professional drycleaning and storage facilities.
To solve your fabric problems send your questions to Clothes Care, Madison and Cross Sts., Pottstown, Pa.

The nicest way to select patterns in china, crystal and sterling is to see them in a table setting. If you are planning a Spring wedding and wish to choose patterns to register for the convenience of friends and relatives, who will select your gifts, I suggest you visit

OLIVER LEWIS CHRISTMAN'S FLOWER AND GIFT SHOP, located at High and Warren streets. There you will see perfectly lovely table settings in the finest bone china by Spode and Wedgwood as well as less expensive patterns for your "everyday use." I particularly like the table created with Wedgwood's "Pot Pourri," an authentic Williamsburg Restoration pattern of lovely flowers and birds. With it Oliver Lewis Christman chose Imperial's Cape Cod stemware, stainless of Sweden, and a centerpiece of lavendar. This is the ideal table setting if you love the charm of a Colonial motiff Oliver Lewis Christman has Real Ironstone by Adams. This durable tableware is distinctively styled and economically priced at just $4.50 for a five-piece place setting. Choose "special occasion" patterns as well as your "everyday" tableware at Oliver Lewis Christman's.

Whether you love the traditional styling of Provincial, the charm of Colonial, or the functional beauty of modern furniture, I'm sure you will agree that good rugs are the thing that "ties a room together" or completely finishes the theme you have planned. I've never seen a collection of rugs to equal, in size or quality, that of LEVITZ! They have all the famous names in floor coverings, and they carry all the types of rugs as well as all the colors. No matter what your choice may be, from the "Wool-O" braided rug to an ultra sophisticated lavendar rug—you will find the complete story at Levitz Rug Department. They stock more than a hundred standard 9x12 rugs, thirty rolls of carpet for wall-to-wall broadloom, and they have one thousand samples for your selection! You'll find Firth, Magee, Hightstown, Bigelow, Masland, Lees, Mohawk among the group! They have wool, 501 nylon, acrilon, viscose, cotton, fiber and Early American braided rugs. They install broadloom the new Hollywood (tackless) way. Of course, the prices are less for famous name quality at Levitz, and you are welcome to use a convenient charge plan!

McGuigan-DiGuiseppe Marriage Rites Performed in Sacred Heart RC Church

The marriage of Gloria Lorraine DiGuiseppe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Liberatore DiGuiseppe, 437 Fifth avenue Royersford, and Frank McGuigan was solemnized in Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church, Royersford.

Parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGuigan Sr., reside at Phoenixville.

The Rev. Laurence Kelly rector, officiated at the nuptial mass Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. In the sanctuary were the Rev. Joseph Martin and the Rev. Leonard Furmanski, assistants to the Rev. Kelly.

Also, the Rev. Anthony McGuire, assistant rector of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, Phoenixville, and the Rev. John J. Foody, rector of St. Mary's church.

Bridal music for the double ring service was presented by organist, Edward DePaoli Thomas Cassel was soloist.

Guests attended from Toronto and Ontario in Canada, Clifton Heights and the local area.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chapel length gown of white silk organza and venice lace. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a lace, sabrina neckline and bracelet length sleeves.

The bouffant silk skirt was accented with lace motifs. Her fingertip length veil of silk illusion fell from a French orange blossom coronet.

Her prayer book was topped with a white orchid and streamers.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Lucy DiGuiseppe. Her ballerina length gown of white flocked nylon organdy over ice blue was styled with a rounded neckline and short sleeves. The full, flared skirt was trimmed with ice blue satin ribbon.

To complete her attire, she wore a matching headband with veil and carried a cascade of white carnations with blue net and ribbon.

Amelia DiGuiseppe, Elm street, Royersford, a cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Richard Kramer, New street, Royersford, were bridesmaids. They were gowned like the honor attendant and carried white carnation cascades trimmed with blue net and ribbon.

Best man was Bart Feulner, Phoenixville. Ushers were James McGuigan, and Robert Benneditto, both of Phoenixville.

A reception followed in the church hall. Mother of the bride, Mrs. DiGuiseppe, chose a blue lace dress, white and black accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. McGuigan, mother of the bridegroom, wore a moss and turquoise dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

For traveling, the new Mrs. McGuigan chose a black and white dress, matching hat and her bridal orchid. Upon their return from an undisclosed wedding trip, the couple will reside in the Collegeville area.

A graduate of Royersford High school with the class of 1953, the bride is employed in the purchasing department of Pennhurst State school. Her husband is employed by T. J. Cope company, division of Rome Cable company, Collegeville.

Pre-nuptial parties were given for the bride by her attendants, her sister and by her co-workers.

Mrs. E. Knause Feted at Banquet In Elks Home

Mrs. Estelle Knause was honored with a "This Is Your Life" program at the annual banquet given by the Pottstown Hospital Nurses Alumnae association Tuesday night in the Elks home.

Mrs. Knause was graduated from the school of nursing in 1923 and has been employed at the hospital almost continually since that time.

She has been in charge of the hospital pharmacy since 1952.

The program opened with an original poem written by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mauger and read by Mrs. Mauger.

Also taking part were: Mrs. Knause's mother, Mrs. William Quinter; her sister, Mrs. Ethel Dilser; her husband, Harry Knause; a son, Richard, his wife and four children; Mrs. Milton Eschbach, a life long friend; June Van Horn, supervisor of nurses at Pottstown hospital.

Also, Mrs. Joseph Stercula and Mrs. Wayne Beck.

Letters were read from Isabelle McAleer who worked with Mrs. Knause for a number of years, and from Dr. Alice E. Sheppard.

Mrs. Knause was presented with a corsage and gift.

Seventy-three members and guests attended. Guests introduced were Johanna Broske, director of nursing at Pottstown hospital and the following members of the 1960 graduating class: Barbara Favinger, Alice Diefenbach, Mary Rodgers, Ruth Angstadt.

Also, Elizabeth Bolton, Joanne Yavorsky, Sandra Owens, Barbara Bare, Rose Campbell, Gloria Bieler, Sandra Ford and Patricia Weller.

Officers will be elected at the next meeting, June 14.

Mrs. Nicholas Skokowski was in charge of the program.

SEED PACKET DECOR—Paste on, then shellac.

Seed Packet Pictures, Good Material For Child's Snip and Paste Decorating

AP Newsfeatures

Now that the spring gardening season is upon us, you can make good use of those gorgeous colored pictures of flowers and vegetables from seed catalogs and packets.

Children love to cut out the gay pictures, and can put in a happy and useful afternoon decorating such things as trays, salad bowls, kitchen cannisters or even the garbage pail.

The cut-out pictures are merely pasted on the surface, then covered with a light coat of shellac to make them waterproof.

Seed packet decals also may be pasted on lampshades as a colorful decoration, or used to brighten up window shades in a child's room.

Local Hospital To Honor Babies Born Within Year

National Hospital Week is observed at Memorial hospital by honoring babies born there within the year and their mothers. The annual event is scheduled Saturday in the all purpose room of St. James Lutheran church.

Mrs. William Hurter, chairman of hospital services for the hospital auxiliary, in charge of arrangements for the affair said 720 invitations were sent covering births between April 16, 1959, to April 15 of this year. Two sets of twins are included.

Prizes will be given to the heaviest baby at birth; the smallest at birth; the youngest with the most teeth; the youngest walking; the mother with the most children and the mother traveling the greatest distance to attend.

The Rev. William S. Horn, pastor of St. James, will give the invocation. Guests will be welcomed by Albert P. Pollick, hospital administrator.

Mrs. Hurter is being assisted by Mrs. Harry Loughney, who assembles the information for prize giving, and Mrs. Pollick and Mrs. Joseph Dinnini, co-chairmen.

Croissants, Perfect Accompaniment For Morning Coffee

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
(Associated Press Food Editor)

It's one of those wonderful French customs! We're talking about the "continental breakfast" of coffee and croissants—those rich flaky rolls that are often bought at fine bakeries but may also be made at home.

How to describe the delights of a croissant? Let's call these crescent-shaped rolls a cross between a bread and a Danish pastry. Croissants are not sweet and the French usually savor their bland but delectable flavor, their layered texture, with nothing but fine sweet butter. But many Americans enjoy adding a bit of jam, jelly or marmalade.

Having a mid-morning "coffee" for "the girls?" Then these rolls are perfect to serve.

CROISSANTS

Ingredients: ¾ cup milk, 2 teaspoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons warm (105 to 115 degrees) water, 1 package active dry yeast, 2¾ cups (about) sifted cake flour, ½ cup butter or margarine.

Method: Scald milk; stir in sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm. Measure water into small bowl; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir into lukewarm milk mixture. Add flour and work into a smooth dough. Knead until smooth and elastic. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 45 minutes. Place butter in a large bowl of cold water and ice cubes or chipped ice. Work butter with hands, breaking it into small pieces and squeezing each in water about 20 times or until butter is pliable and waxy; remove butter and wipe off excess water. Divide into three equal portions; wrap each in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator until firm. When dough has risen, punch down with fist; fold sides toward center. Turn ball smooth-side up on a lightly floured surface. Roll dough into a rectangle ¼ to ½ inch thick. Dot center third of rolled dough with one portion chilled butter pieces. Cover butter with righ-hand third of dough. Fold left-hand third under butter section. With rolling pin, gently press down and seal the three upper open edges. Wrap dough in waxed paper and chill 30 minutes. Remove dough from refrigerator and place on lightly floured surface with butter section near top, narrow width toward you. Turn one-quarter way around, to have open edge away from you, and roll out to original size. Repeat twice the procedure for buttering, folding, sealing and chilling, using second and third portions of butter. Each time place on floured surface, turn and roll as directed. Roll dough into a round ⅛ inch thick. Cut 12 wedges. Roll up beginning at wide end. Fasten end by brushing tip with part of a mixture of 1 egg yolk (slightly beaten) and 1 tablespoon milk. Place rolls on greased baking sheet with points underneath. Curve into crescents. Cover lightly with a towel and let rise in a warm place about 1 hour, or until doubled. Brush with remaining egg mixture and bake in hot (425 degrees) over 15 to 20 minutes, or until rolls are golden brown.

TO ANY TOURIST—who has visited Europe this table scene will stir longings for delightful croissants and morning coffee, the typical "continental breakfast." They're perfect to serve for the woman who has a mid-morning coffee with the girls.

Members, Guests of Women's Guild Given Imaginary Tour at May Tea

Members of St. Paul's United Church of Christ Women's guild and guests were given an imaginary tour of Africa at the annual May tea Tuesday evening at the church.

The worship service was led by Mrs. William Keeler. Mrs. Donald Sands welcomed guests. A film on Africa entitled "I'll Sing Not Cry" was shown by Arlan Millard.

Rooms of the church were decorated to depict places in Africa. Before leaving for the tour, members sang the African theme song, "Cumbayah."

They were divided into four groups and named as follows: aka, meaning coral bead; edima, meaning precious thing; kebayen, translated means we'll just see, and ugbana, fair as a water flow.

In the first room, Mrs. Lamonde DeKalb as the head clansman, gave advice to the younger clansmen.

Members then stopped for a refreshing drink, fruit punch, served by Mrs. Frank Kasdras.

The groups proceded through the jungle where the background consisted of various snake skins and stuffed animals such as monkeys and elephants.

In another room were a number of items sculptured from wood and ebony including utensils for a church service, candlesticks, had carved pipes and intricately carved boxes.

Members and guests were directed through a hallway decorated with additional stuffed animals of the jungle.

African games were directed by Mrs. Millard and Mrs. Daniel Reifsnyder. For one of the games, members were masked and asked to throw stones into baskets. A race with baskets on top of their heads followed.

A skit called "Whose Manners Are Better" was presented under the direction of Mrs. Merril Bower. In the cast were: Donna Sands, Andrea Levane, Mary Ellen Millard, Kay Gross, Pamela Bower and Marjorie Peck.

Mrs. C. William Ebbert, wife of the pastor, discussed the painting "The African Madonna and Child" by Rusi Beseriko, a young African woman.

The Rev. Ebbert directed attention to a map of Africa comparing the vastness of that country with the United States. He also showed the part of Africa where the film was taken.

Refreshments were served following prayer led by the Rev. Ebbert.

Members of the committee in charge of the program were: Mrs. Ebbert, chairman, and Mrs. DeKalb, Mrs. C. Elmer Fegley, Mrs. Bower, Mrs. Daniel Reifsnyder, Mrs. Arthur Rapine, Mrs. William Keeler, Mrs. Arlan Millard, Mrs. Kasdras, Mrs. Edwin Nyman and Mrs. Edwin Levane.

Aunt Tilly having a birthday party? Uncle Harry getting a medal? Telephone The Mercury with the news and you may be awarded part of $10 given weekly in a news tip contest.

PIRATES EDGE DODGERS, 3-2 ON HOME RUNS

Mazeroski, Smith Blows Halt 4-Game Buc Nosedive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates pulled out of a four game nosedive Tuesday night by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 on home runs by Bill Mazeroki and Hal Smith.

Vern Law pitched his fifth complete game in six starts and ran his record to 5-1. He gave up eight hits. He yielded a home run to the Dodgers for the first time in almost three years when rookie Norm Sherry drove one of his pitches over the left field screen.

Johnny Podres gave up seven hits and all three Pittsburgh runs and suffered his second loss in four decisions.

Mazeroski and Gino Cimoli committed an error apiece for the Pirates, running Pittsburgh's total for their last six games to 17. They made seven errors in San Francisco Sunday and four here Monday night.

Neither of Monday night's errors figured in the scoring.

The game drew 26,331, running Dodger home attendance for 17 games to 523,207.

Smith's homer, his third, produced the first Pittsburgh run in the second. Mazeroski got his fifth three innings later, scoring ex-Dodger Gino Cimoli ahead of him. Cimoli had singled.

Smith was thrown out of the game in the ninth when he got in a beef with plate umpire Shag Crawford.

Sherry's homer, a bases empty shot in the third, was his second of the season and second in succession. He beat the Philadelphia Phillies with an 11th inning pinch homer in his last previous time at bat Saturday night.

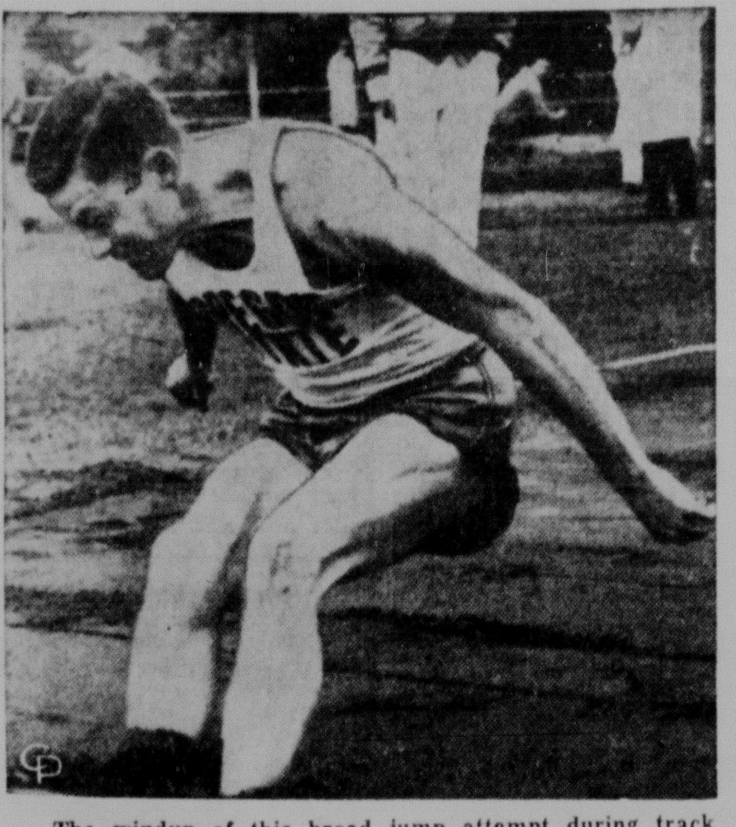
Bucs' Clemente Fined $50 for Game Ejection

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Outfielder Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates, chased by Umpire Shag Crawford in Friday night's game against San Francisco, Tuesday, was fined $50 by National league president Warren Giles.

Giles also sent a warning to first baseman Dick Stuart for delaying the game after he was tossed out Saturday, also in San Francisco. Stuart took his time leaving the playing field.



The windup of this broad jump attempt during track meet at Eugene, Ore., was a bit gooey as you can see. But Darryl Horn of Oregon State managed to win it despite his dislike of the muddy landing.

Spring-Ford Gets 5th Straight Win To Climb Within One-Half Game of Ches-Mont, Upper Section Roof

Spring-Ford, which has been taking giant strides toward the top of the Ches-Mont league's Upper section ladder, inched closer to the coveted rung Tuesday via an 11-9 win over Boyertown's Bears at Boyertown.

It was the fifth straight victory for the Rams, who gained one-half game on idle Pottstown, the Upper section pacesetter.

Spring-Ford now holds a 6-4 card as compared to the Trojans' 6-3.

Three runs in the sixth settled the issue after both teams got some explosive runmaking out of their systems. The Rams teed off on starter George Mitchell in the first. The righthander was forced out after retiring but one man and allowing five runs and the same number of hits.

RON HAUCK relieved Mitchell and got the side out without further damage. Big blows of the inning were Dan Ferguson's homer with one on and a long triple by Jack Williams.

Undisturbed by their deficit, the Bears clawed out six in the second. Ram starter Joe Guber, plagued with wildness, was driven to cover by two singles and a clutch Carl Houp double.

Williams took over from Guber and wound up the winner after limiting the Bears to another run in the fourth and two in the sixth.

Spring-Ford tied the free-scoring affair with a pair in the fifth. Houck filled the bases with three straight walks and left in favor of John Moyer. Gary Ebert pickled Moyer's first serve for two bases and two runs.

Moyer was the victim of the Rams' sixth-inning fireworks and was subsequetly charged with the loss. Three straight singles by Ferguson, John Miller and Bob Weber produced two runs and Weber scored on Houp's error.

Giants Bump Phils, 4-2

The Point Spread...

By WARREN HOWARD
(Mercury Sports Writer)

THE MAIN SPEAKER AT Pottstown High's Spring sports banquet will be Josh Culbreath, the Norristown schoolteacher who is more famous as a hurdler. Culbreath, who recently won the 400-meter Olympic development hurdles at the Penn Relays, has long been high on Pottstown High athletic director Morrie Grigg's list of preferred speakers, but one thing or another always preprevented his acceptance.

The banquet will be held next Monday evening. Now Grigg has one other immediate objective—to land either Jersey Joe Walcott or Bob Richards as a guest at the next Pottstown Tri-County Old-Timers boosters' club fete.

WALT FILLMAN

FORMER POTTSTOWN HIGH and William and Mary college track star Walt Fillman ran a 9.9 100-yard dash Saturday during a dual meet between the Quantico Marines and Penn State, but placed second to State's Bob Brown, who did a 9.7 century.

Fillman also ran the 120-yard high hurdles, again taking a second. The Marines won the meet however, 74-57 . . . Frank Waresak and Denny Schaeffer, former Pottstown and Boyertown footballers, also got into the Penn State picture during the weekend.

The pair played in the annual Blue-White football game, won by the Blues, 32-22. Woresak, a guard, played on the White second unit, and Schaeffer fullbacked the Blue seconds.

THE EASTERN DEBUT OF THE midget auto racers was rained out for the second time in as many weeks Saturday night when the Hatfield speedway program got the business from Jupiter Pluvius. Rain also canceled out Dick Heist's debut as a racing promoter last weekend at Reading.

Also rained out for the second time this season was the first lightweight motorcycle race, scheduled Sunday on the New Hanover oval. The first date was early in April, and came right in the middle of an elongated wet spell.

RAIN AND WET GROUNDS also postponed the Pottstown High-Conestoga baseball game for the second straight day, moving it back to May 23, the original date of the league playoffs, which will now be held three days later.

The change in the schedule will shift the Trojans' closing game of the season back to the home diamond. Previously, the game was to be the last home tilt for the locals, with Spring-Ford, Phoenixville and Coatesville remaining to be met on the road.

BOB GOODHART'S 11 errorless chances at shortstop against Owen J. Roberts last Thursday must stand as the best effort of the year by a Ches-Mont league shortstop. Very rarely does a high school shortstop go through a game without at least one miscue.

Goodhart, who had played the position in earlier year, was seeing his first action of the current season there. He has previously been a jack-of-all-trades, appearing at first and third base, and even pitching a few innings.

IT IS DOUBTFUL THAT ANY coach in the Ches-Mont league ever quit with the record that Walt Funk has at Coatesville. Funk, who cracked the whip over the Red Raider basketball and track teams in addition to serving as athletic director, is the winning coach of the circuit.

He has won five basketball league titles and all but one track crown. The bugaboo in the cinder ointment is Heber T. Meyers, whose 1957 squad won the only track title Funk has lost. He is also the only coach to beat Funk in a dual meet, turning the trick the same year.

Funk will become assistant principal at Coatesville, and continue to coach the track team. The last bit will make a few rival coaches unhappy.

Philly Bobbles Produce Late Runs; Post Gets HR

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants, helped by three Philadelphia errors, whipped the Phils 4-2 Tuesday night to maintain their 1½-game National League lead.

A crowd of 20,304 watched the Giants take their fourth straight in Candlestick Park.

Stu Miller, who pitched to only one man, Gene Conley, but got him to ground out in the seventh with two men on base to cut out a rally, was credited with his first victory against one defeat.

Conley, making his second start, went six and two-thirds innings and took the loss, his first.

Johnny Antonelli pitched the first six and two-thirds innings, but weakened and was replaced by Miller.

Don Blasingame played a major role in the first three Giant runs. His single in the seventh scored Willie Kirkland and Blas scored in the third when he singled, stole second and scored on Jim Davenport's single.

In the sixth, Blasingame walked but was forced by Willie Mays, who stole second, and tallied when second baseman Bob Malkmus let Willie McCovey's grounder slip between his legs.

But it wasn't Mays' night as he struck out three times.

19th Venzke Relays Today At Boyertown

Kennett's Webster, Roman Catholic Unit Expected to Provide Thrills In Four Events

Kennett Square's sensational Donnie Webster and Roman Catholic's two-mile relay team are expected to draw all the attention tonight when the 19th annual Venzke Relay carnival unfolds under the lights at Boyertown High school.

A total of 425 athletes—75 over the previously expected total of 350—are expected to compete in the carnival, which gets under way at 7 o'clock with the running of the Berks County mile run.

Gene Venzke himself, the now almost-legendary Olympic miler of a generation ago, will be on hand to present the trophy to the winner.

Seven Berks county four-lappers will compete for the award, won by Governor Mifflin's Hal Freeman a year ago, and shoot at Roy Feick's 4:39.5 record.

FREEMAN HAS since graduated, and Feick's record doesn't appear to be in any immediate danger, though the race should be a close and thrilling one for the spectators, if a bit slow.

Area athletes from Boyertown, Daniel Boone, Pottsgrove, Upper Perkiomen and Oley High schools will be among those shooting for awards.

Junior High runners from Pottstown, Boyertown, Boone, Exeter Township, and Oley will be on hand.

Ches-Mont league teams entered hail from Conestoga, Downingtown and Phoenixville.

TODAY WILL mark the first time the carnival has been held at night. The program, which opens with the running of the mile, will close with the two-mile relay, in which Roman Catholic of Philadelphia will be back to defend its laurels.

But the big draw will be Webster, defending State quarter-mile champion who will be shooting at the State schoolboy record of 48.6 for the 440 yards this year.

Webster, who has run the quarter in 47.8 already this year, will anchor Kennett teams in the 880, mile and medley relays. The Demons were also entered in the two-mile, but will not compete.

Webster will follow Luke Arnold, Gerald Dunn and Leon Plankinton in the mile relay. The quartet will be shooting at Conestoga's 3:34.9 record for the event.

Kennett has already bettered this time on two occasions. In the Bethlehem relays last weekend, the Demons ran a 3:34.8 mile, and turned in a 3:34.4 clocking in their leg of the Penn Relays.

Conestoga will be back to defend however, with Charles Wilson, Kent Overton, John Hanft and Phil Murphy.

The Pioneers will also run the medley, with Wilson, Overton, Art Toensmeier and Dave Roberts. These are the two teams that are expected to battle for the laurels.

The Berks county 880-yard relay and a Boyertown elementary school 440-yard relay, join the mile run in the "closed-shop" events.

BROOKSIDE WOMEN WIN

Spring-Ford Golfers Notch 4th Cup Victory

Brookside's Firsts moved back to the winning track and Spring-Ford's Firsts continued under a full head of steam in women's Philadelphia cup play Tuesday.

Beaten for the first time last Friday, Brookside's Sixth cup competitors used their home course to defeat visiting Philmont, 6-1, to lift their mark to 3-1.

Unbeaten Spring-Ford, opating in Seventh cup activity, rolled to its fourth win in a row with a 5-2 win over Bala at the loser's course.

In Eighteenth cup action, Brookside's Seconds absorbed their second loss of the year as Woodcrest scored a 5-2 win at Haddonfield, N.J. Spring-Ford's seconds dropped number four in Nineteenth cup competition—a 6-1 loss to Ashbourne.

MARCHESKI'S 4-HIT EFFORT EARNS 2D WIN

DiCarlo Deals 11 Passes To Produce Own Defeat

WAYNE—St. Pius X' baseballers took advantage of Don DiCarlo's wildness and St. Katherine's errors to rack up an 11-4 victory over the Wildcats here Tuesday.

The win, second in a row for the Saints, left them with a 2-3 Suburban Catholic league slate as Steve "Butch" Marcheski hurled a four-hitter.

DiCarlo, who passed 11 batters during a five-inning-plus stint, was charged with the loss. He also surrendered six St. Pius hits and delivered up four wild pitches.

DiCarlo was on the ropes almost from the start, but staggered into the fourth inning trailing by only 3-0.

* * *

THE SAINTS picked up their first run in the second on walks to Ken Stutz, Marcheski and Denny Psota sandwiched around a hit batsman, Augie DeNicco.

Don Kalavik led off the third with a double and Dave Toth singled to drive him home. A sacrifice by Skip Peterman and a fielder's choice scored Toth, who was wild-pitched to second.

DiCarlo's wildness again caught up to him in the fourth, when he walked Marcheski and DeNicco, loosed another wild heave and served up a three-base blow to Kalavik to clear the bases.

Kalavik was left on third however, when Toth popped to the mound, ending the threat.

THE SAINTS began to find the hitting range in the fourth, as Peterman singled to lead off, Ed Kelly was safe on an error and Marcheski singled to load the bases.

A pair of fielder's choices, one of which backfired, let in both runs and the Saints had a 5-0 lead, but more was to come.

DiCarlo walked Dave Psota, playing in place of Kalavik, Jack Mata and Peterman to lead off the sixth, before he was lifted in favor of Dan Cannon, who completed the job by walking Ted Pawlowski and Marcheski to force in two runs. Johnny Chenosky, batting for Denny Psota, singled in Kelly.

Marcheski however, was caught stealing to end the inning.

Marcheski lost his shutout in the bottom of the same inning as Cannon was safe on an error, DeCarlo singled and Tom Kelly doubled to drive in a pair of runs. Frank Robinson walked.

Jim Tolano was safe on an error, allowing Kelly to score, and Joe Yosua singled Robinson home.

Cannon held the Saints in check, facing the minimum three batters, in the seventh.

Tribe Rallies In 10th To Defeat Yankees, 5-1

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians backed rookie Dick Stigman's superb relief pitching by scoring four runs in the 10th inning, three on Jim Piersall's homer, for a 5-1 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night.

Stigman, 24, a 6-foot-3 southpaw came on in the eighth after Elston Howard's home run to lead off the inning had junked starter Jim Perry's one-hit shutout. Stigman got out of a bases-loaded jam by getting Roger Maris on a pop up in the eighth, retired pinch hitter Hector Lopez on a grounder with two on in the ninth, and then set down the Yankees in order in the 10th.

The Indians shut out on two hits by Bill Short and Bob Turley for eight innings after getting a run in the first, broke it up against Ryne Duren. The Yankee relief ace hadn't given up a run this season and had a nine-inning hitless streak.

Duren, now 1-1, hit pinch hitter Walt Bond on the hand with one out, and after Stigman sacrificed, Johnny Temple broke the tie with a bloop single to right. Then after Harvey Kuenn beat out an infield chop, Piersall sent his first home run of the season into the right field seats.

The Indians scored just one in the first despite two doubles, a single and a walk off Short. Woodie Held's two-out double got the run home.

Cleveland then was hitless until the fifth, when Short, a left-handed rookie gave way with elbow trouble after singles by George Strickland and Perry. Turley, making his first appearance since April 20 because of arm toruble, no-hit the Indians in 4 1/3 innings of relief.

Tigers Win, 1-0 On Colavito HR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rocky Colavito hit a two-out home run in the ninth Tuesday night as Detroit snapped a 10-game losing streak with a 1-0 victory over Washington.

Colavito's fourth homer into the left field bullpen broke up a tense pitching duel between Detroit's Don Mossi and the Senators' Tex Clevenger.

Mossi allowed only three hits, walked one and struck out seven to win his first against two defeats. The Tigers collected five hits off Clevenger, making his first start after seven relief appearances.

Only one Senator got past first base. He was Bob Allison, who tripled to right with one out in the fourth but was stranded.

Boyertown Girls Cop 7-0 Victory

Shirley Cleaver's one-hit shutout pitching, and North Penn's porous infield earned Boyertown's Bearettes a 7-0 victory over the Lansdale unit on the Boyertown diamond Tuesday.

Miss Cealver walked but two batters over the route, while hurling the Bearettes to their fifth win against one tie. They have not lost.

In addition, she spanked a two-bagger in three trips, one of only four hits given up by Donna Wampler of North Penn. Janis Eddinger of the Bearettes had a triple in three trips.

Hill JV Netmen Top Norristown

The Hill school jayvee tennis unit swept to its sixth straight victory of the year Tuesday, blanking Norristown High, 6-0 on the winners' courts.

Jon DeWitt and Ed Moffett led the victorious Blue unit with two victories each. DeWitt shaded Norristown's Joe Tote in a close singles match 7-5, 7-5, while Moffett whipped Jay Davis handily, 6-1, 6-3.

The pair then combined for a 6-0, 6-0 doubles win over Tote and Dick Schultz.

Repulski Slam Propels Boston Over White Sox

BOSTON (AP) — Pinch-hitter Rip Repulski made his American League debut with a mighty grand slam home run Tuesday night for Boston's 9-7 victory over pacesetting Chicago.

However the defeat did not dislodge the White Sox from the American League lead as they were able to keep a one-game advantage over the New York Yankees, which lost 5-1 in 10 innings to Cleveland.

Making his first appearance at the plate since being acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers, Repulski drove a 1-0 pitch by lefty Don Ferrarese high over the screen atop the left field wall in the eighth inning.

Vic Wertz' grand slam in the first got the Red Sox off to a fast start as the 35-year-old first baseman reached 1,001 runs batted in for his career.

WEST CHESTER RUSHES PAST CAT HARRIERS

Warriors Earn 82½-34½ Win Over Roberts Unit

WEST CHESTER — With Horace Webb, Dick Hall and Jim Bell showing the way, West Chester's Warrior thinclads easily defeated Owen J. Roberts, 82½-34½, here Tuesday.

This trio racked up six firsts—two each — as the Warriors grabbed nine wins of 13 events in dealing the visitors their fourth loss of the year. The Wildcats have won twice.

Webb picked up victories in the 100 and 220-yard events. Hall was home first in the 440 and came back to cop the 880.

Morse's firsts came in the field events. His 12-feet leap was good enough for the pole vault high and he led the broad jumpers with an 18-11½ figure.

Barry Frees was a double victor for the 'Cats. Frees topped the field in both the 180-yard low and 120-yard high hurdles.

Pennridge High Pins 5-0 Blank On Indian Nine

PENNRIDGE — Pennridge High poured four runs into the hopper in the first two innings then coasted to a 5-0 win over Upper Perkiomen here Tuesday.

It was Bux-Mont league loss number seven for the visiting Indians who have yet to record a mark in the victory column.

Bill Peterman and Jerry Fluck collaborated on the shutout mound effort. Peterman allowed Upper Perkiomen just one hit in five innings and Fluck gave up two in two frames.

Ron Engle held the winners to six hits but a pair of singles and an error produced two Pennridge runs in the first.

Back-to-back doubles by Joe Gutekunst and Larry Gluck and another Upper Perkiomen miscue provided two more markers in the second.

A second double by Gutekunst and a duplicate shot by Jeff Moyer handed the winners their final tally in the fourth.

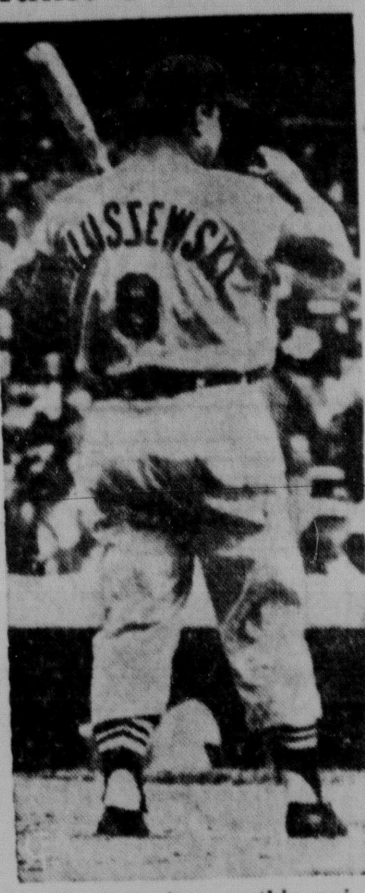
Bowsher, Brown Join Langhorne 150-Mile Field

LANGHORN . . . Three more midwestern broadsiders will pit their experienc and skill against the keen field in Sunday's 150-mile National championship, featuring the late model stock cars and scheduled for the Langhorne Speedway. Virgil Barbe, of Detroit; Jack Bowsher, of Springfield, Ohio, and the Chicago veteran, Bill Brown, will be aspiring for positions among the thirty-three starters in the annual grind.

Barbe, who finished fifth in the 1958 title event at the 'Horne, will be driving a 1960 Ford.

Name's the Same



The lettering on this uniform may be a bit loused up, but the name is Kluszewski anyhow. The tailor who did the sewing of big Ted's name put the "Z" on backwards and made the "K" near the end look like an "X".

Roberts JH Wins 4th; Pottsgrove Unit Beaten 7-1

Billy Scherfel pitched a five-hitter to win his fourth straight game of the season Tuesday as Owen J. Roberts Junior high turned back Memorial of Phoenixville, 8-5.

In other Junior High action Pottsgrove bowed to East Norriton, 7-1 on the winners' lot.

Scherfel, who has yet to lose this season, had his task softened by six runs in the first inning as he fanned 11 and walked three over the route.

He also contributed to the Wildcat attack with a hit in three trips, which drove in a run. He had to put down a Memorial rally in the seventh, when two runs scored.

* * *

GEORGE ARMSTRONG in the Junior Falcons was not so fortunate however, as he lost his second against one win. He was tagged for nine hits, though he surrendered but two earned runs.

TROJANS WIN 3D GOLF TILT

Pottstown Shotmakers Top Phantoms 12½-2½

Pottstown High's golfers turned the tables on Phoenixville Tuesday, reversing an early 12-3 loss to the Phantoms with a 12½-2½ victory.

Playing on a slow Brookside country club course made so by recent rains and high rough, the Trojans won their third match of the season against five losses, and now stand a good chance of breaking even for the year.

Boyertown, on Thursday, and West Chester remain on the slate.

The match was closer than the score indicated, as was the case in Phoenixville. A good match by Judy Maute, subbing for injured Will O'Dell, aided the Trojan cause.

BOB DeLONG was the day's medalist with a 91, and defeated Roger Groff 2-up at the end of nine holes, and 4 and 3 on the return trip.

Phil Welch, playing No. 3, also won by a fairly lopsided margin, with a pair of 2-up wins over Charles Holland.

The two distaffers, Judy Maute of the Trojans and Judy Smiley played to the last hole on the first nine before Miss Maute edged out a one-up win, but the second nine was more onesided, 4 and 3 in favor of the Trojan lass.

In junior varity nine-hole matches both Harris Leventhal and Steve Bressler won.

Stock-Car Event Scheduled for Hatfield Track

Madcap stock car racing—Hatfield speedway style — returns to the third-mile Montgomery county motordrome Saturday evening under the sanction of two clubs, the Bell Racing Club and the All-Star Racing Club.

An upstart, George Rounsavill, has been stealing the thunder from last year's point leaders in the Bell club. The 23-year-old Doylestown carpenter, who finished in eighth spot in the 1959 standings, scored a feature victory in his Hatfield debut two weeks ago and also possesses a win at Highstown, N. J.

He drives for his brother-in-law, Jack Huhn, Doylestown. Others who'll bear watching in the strictly stock class are Johnny Bright, Blaine Sadler, Dick and Bob Wilkie, "Wild Bill" Moore, George Dilworth and others.

Ralph Detweiler, the Bell's defending champion, has stepped into faster company this season and will compete in the All-Star Club's modified division against such top-notchers as Dick Havens, Eddy Horn, Tommy Sheetz Harry and Mose Moore, Jack Rudy, to name only a few.

Ursinus Thinclads Dump Washington 89-37 As Morgan Breaks 2-Mile Mark

Vern Morgan and Al Walton each picked up three first places Tuesday afternoon as Ursinus college's thinclads won their second dual meet of the year, 89-37 over Washington college at Collegeville.

Morgan—tuning up for a try at a 'triple' in the up-coming Middle Atlantic conference championships—won the mile, 880 and two-mile, and Walton was equally victorious in the shotput, discus and javelin.

Morgan however, coasted through the two "shorter" runs, turning the mile in 4:41.3, and the 880 in 2:11.3, then put on a tremendous showing in the two-mile, finishing in 9:53.6, his best showing of the year.

The run erased his previous school record of 9:56 flat, set against Franklin and Marshall on the home cinders April 20. The tall former Norristown High distance star has turned in excellent runs in both the 880 and two-mile runs this year.

AS HE did on opening day against Albright April 13, Morgan lapped the entire field including teammate Bill Pratt, the second place finisher, in the two-mile. He is unbeaten in the three events.

The Bears swept the two-mile, 880, shot put, javelin and broad jump. Washington's Mark Diashyn however, matched Morgan victory for victory, taking a triple in the 100-dash, 220-yard low hurdles and 120-yard highs.

Another Washington performer, sprinter John Pace, won the 220 and 440-yard dashes. Diashyn however, stepped the 220-yard low hurdles in 24 seconds flat, though his victory was somewhat overshadowed by Morgan's great two-mile run.

He also ran the century in 10.3, while Pace turned the quarter in 52.2 seconds.

KAYCEE BOMBS ORIOLES, 10-0

Hall's 6-Hitter Blanks Birds for 3d Win In Row

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics bombed the Baltimore Orioles 10-0 Tuesday night as right-hander Dick Hall breezed to his third straight victory on a six-hitter.

Hall, a 6-6 stringbean, struck out six and walked none as he ran his record of 3-0 before a crowd of 5,788.

The Athletics didn't need shutout pitching by any means. They scored one run in the second and put the game on ice with a nine-run outburst in the fifth.

Dick Williams led the 12-hit Kansas City attack with a double and a grand slam homer, and Norm Siebern, Russ Snyder and Jerry Lumpe also had two hits.

Williams, an ex-Oriole, started Kansas City's big inning with a double and climaxed with the grand slam, his first homer of the season.

In between, there was a passed ball, two Baltimore errors and five Athletics' singles. Eight of the nine runs were earned.

Jack Fisher, relieving Hoyt Wilhelm after five runs were in, gave up a walk to Bauer and Williams' homer before getting the final two outs. Wilhelm suffered his second loss against one victory.

The Athletics scored an unearned run in the second inning when Wilhelm's knuckler proved too much for catcher Joe Ginsberg, subbing for the injured Gus Triandos.

THE SECURITY TRUST COMPANY

TERM LOANS for SMALL BUSINESSES

WHAT they are

When a businessman has a seasonal need or an unusual demand to meet, he borrows from a bank on a 30, 60 or 90 day basis. Generally, these loans are to be paid back in full at maturity.

TERMS LOANS, on the other hand, are a long-term form of credit. They are made for substantially the same purposes but differ in two important respects: (1) They may run for as long as three years. (2) They are paid back out of earnings.

These features of the TERM LOAN make it attractive to many small businesses. This may be just the type of credit you need to pay operating bills, to buy inventory, to modernize or to accomplish some other objective that will benefit your business.

Your TERM LOAN is paid back on a schedule — monthly or quarterly—which we work out with you. TERM LOANS can be on a secured or unsecured basis and are made available for a wide variety of sound business needs. They usually range in amount from $500 to $25,000.

WHO can get them

TERM LOANS are designed for you — if you run a small established business and can show that the business has the capacity to progress, to expand, to modernize or develop with the right kind of financial assistance. You do not have to have an account with this bank to get a TERM LOAN.

The same general credit conditions that govern other loans naturally govern TERM LOANS too. These include such essential questions as: Is the business basically sound? Is the purpose of the loan warranted? Can the borrower pay back on schedule?

The main advantages to you of the TERM LOAN are that you may have a longer period of time in which to pay back and you may pay gradually out of earnings—instead of all at once.

We'd like you to think of us as your financial counsel in these matters. We're anxious to investigate and study your need, and we'll welcome the opportunity of going over it thoroughly with you.

NOTE: For financial advice or banking services, you are cordially invited to consult Mr. E. Paul Oliphant or his executive assistants Harold E. Arbogast and Joseph Hutt, at Security Trust Company, High and Hanover Sts., Pottstown.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

TWO HUNTERS met at the bank of a swirling stream in darkest Africa. Suddenly one started running, and yelling, "Hip! hip!" "Hooray!" amended the other, anxious to get into the spirit of the thing. "No, no," corrected the first. "Hip, hip, hippopotamus."

In her book of memoirs, "Here Lies the Heart," socialite Mercedes de Acosta tells about the time Isadora Duncan led the great Russian ballet star Nijinski, in a mad waltz at a Paris ball. She came back to her party exuberant. "What a shame he wasn't my pupil when he was two," she sighed. "Then I could have taught him to really dance!"

Miss de Acosta once wrote a letter to her friend, Poet Amy Lowell, and realized after she had mailed it that she had misspelled a key word. So she sent a wire to Miss Lowell reading, "Please excuse me for misspelling a word in my letter." Next day Miss Lowell wired back, "which one?"

TRETHEWEY'S DRUG STORE SELLS STOCK

Firm Was Operated For More Than 50 Years

Trethewey's, a Boyertown drug store for more than 50 years, has sold its stock to a Philadelphia chemical firm. The last day of business was Monday. The store will not open again under the Trethewey name.

The proprietor of the business, Mrs. Walter H. Edwards, announced Tuesday night that only soda fountain fixtures in the rented building remain to be sold before she closes the business.

The drug store was purchased shortly after the turn of the century by the late Samuel Trethwey and the late Jacob Buchert. It was run under a partnership for several years until Trethewey bought out Buchert.

In July 1937 the handling of the business was taken over by Mrs. Edwards' first husband, Byron Trethewey, and operated by him until his death in 1957.

With Market at Stalemate Analysts Look to the Future

By WILLIAM FERRIS
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—With the stock market pretty much stalemated in recent sessions, analysts are beginning to look ahead toward the latter part of the year.

"It appears," Amott, Baker & Co. said, "That investors are now turning to the outlook for business in the third and fourth quarters in their appraisal of the direction of stock market prices.

"There is accumulating evidence that the second half of 1960 will witness a pick up in general business."

• • •

The firm noted that stock prices have reached their high point after Labor Day in 12 of the last 15 presidential election years. It concluded, "The market could approach its January highs sometime later this year."

More is being heard of a possible easing of money in this election year, particularly if the business situation deteriorates.

Standard & Poor's Corp. said, "It has become increasingly clear with each passing week that the current Federal Reserve inclination is to lean on the side of credit ease, although its policy must be considered as still flexible."

Shearson, Hammil & Co. said, "There are strong reasons for believing that if recent developments in the money market fail to bring about a strengthening in the general economic picture, the Federal Reserve is likely to embark on a policy of more active ease which may eventually involve a reduction in the rediscount rate."

Bache & Co. said, "If the current trend continues, we would expect some easing in the availability and cost of money."

* * *

Benton Davis of Mitchell, Hutchins & Co. said, "Is money easing because business is slowing up? Temporarily perhaps. But I am thoroughly convinced that growth in our economy will demand an increasing flow and supply of money over the years ahead."

"Before the general market embarks upon a sustained recovery of several months duration," Investors Research Co. said, "we believe it is probable that the 600 level in the Dow Jones industrial average will be penetrated by a moderate degree—12 to 20 points.

"There have been countless times when a minor penetration of an important support level occurred prior to a sustained recovery. These minor penetrations brought out last ditch selling and set the stage for really important market upswings."

Local Accountant Uses Centuries Old Method of Becoming a Church Deacon

ker's parish who became priests through normal seminary study are William E. Mills, formerly of 770 High street, now a curate in Paoli, and the Rev. C. Kendrick Dwyer, formerly of Third and Hanover streets, now a rector in Colonie, N. Y.

Holt will be ordained in Bryn Mawr by the Rt. Rev. Oliver J. Hart, bishop of the Pennsylvania diocese. The ceremony in the Church of the Redeemer will be at 10 a. m.

Holt will enter the perpetual diaconate. That means he will wear "the cloth" and be called "reverend", but will never become a priest.

He will continue his full time job as cost accountant at Minneapolis-Honeywell division, and assist with worship services, religious groups and youth activities whenever he can.

HOLT'S YOUNGER brother, Robert, is rector of St. Aidan's Episcopal church, Cheltenham.

Because Christ Episcopal church has grown from 214 to 1138 parishioners in the past 19 years, its rector also will get a full time assistant June 1.

That man will be ordained the same day and hour as Holt, but the ceremony will be in St. Paul's church, Elkins Park.

Peter A. Greenfield, who is studying at the Rev. Lineker's alma mater, will be curate and assistant to the Rev. Lineker in the borough's only Episcopal church.

Greenfield will become a deacon Saturday, will be graduated summa cum laude from divinity school May 28, and will be made a priest in November. He will move to Pottstown within two weeks.

* * *

HIS WORK at Christ Episcopal church will be to reorganize a youth program for 160 teen-agers; to visit parishioners and encourage a spiritual unity with their church, and to help with Sunday services.

Greenfield and Holt will be the first helpers for the Rev. Lineker since that rector came to Pottstown in February, 1941.

While Greenfield probably will have a lengthy stay in the borough, Holt's service will be at the behest of the Pennsylvania bishop. He could be assigned "wherever needed."

Gerald Wentzel Named Explorer Adviser

Gerald Wentzel has been appointed adviser of Explorer post 129, Boy Scouts of America, post committeemen announced.

He will replace Edwin Christman, who resigned three weeks ago. The council met at the Emmanuel Lutheran church, Hanover and Walnut streets. Franklin Mann, post chairman, presided at the meeting, attended by the 14 members of the council.

The committeemen announced that there will be a picnic June 8 at the farm of council member Richard Grow, Benjamin Franklin highway, Stowe.

UNITED FUND BIDS TOTAL $270,719

Chairman Appoints Two Division Leaders

With all but one agency counted, United Fund requests total $270,719. The total of all welfare requests last year was $ 266,867.

UF directors met Tuesday at noon to get an accounting for next year's budget. The only agency so far without a request for funds is Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, which is expected to be "just a few thousand dollars," said Ralph Spare, UF official.

A. C. Klevickis, general chairman of the UF, appointed two division leaders at the meeting in Brooksile country club. J. R. Sotter, 546 North Charlotte street, will head solicitors getting funds from professional men and women. Sotter was one of the organizers of United Fund and was its first president.

T. A. McCaslin 3d, Spruce street and Maplewood drive, will take charge of business solicitations. McCaslin has been a UF director for many years.

ROBERT E. HUTTON, chairman of UF organization, recommended that directors compile a master list of welfare agencies and the services they offer. He also recommended year-round publicity for UF.

Industrial strikes and layoffs dropped UF pledges 1½ percent last year. The per capita donation to United Fund last year was $4.85.

That figure placed the Pottstown area in the upper third of communities of its category reporting per capita donations.

JAMES CORUM RENOMINATED TO UNION POST

ence Matz, 1952-1954 and the late Arthur Milligan, 1941-1945.

Opposition to Corum in elections June 16 will come from Henry Stewart, 157 Potts drive, who is a shop steward at Flaggs.

OFFICERS WILL be elected for two years. Nearly all incumbents seek a third term in Local 2326, United Steel Workers of America.

The slate is as follows: vice president, Morris Berger and John Smith; secretary, Lewis Swartz, and Charles Evans; financial secretary, Wilbur Wilkinson and Andrew Lisko; treasurer, Clarence Matz and Walter Henry; trustees, Harry Smith, Vincent Lascala and John Harmonski.

Also, guide, Hanson Selby; inside guard, William Mourar; outside guard, Albert Lastoskie and seven of the following for grievance commiteemen: Thomas Hunsinger, Francis Zielinski; Woodrow Adams; Leroy Reiman; Lascala; Albert Fontana; Francis Banks; Levi Burdan, William DeAngelo, Lester Boughter, John Horan, Henry Fry, Willard Richards, Frank Noecker and Michael Sitko Sr.

Elections will be June 16 from noon to 8 p.m. in department 17 of Flaggs.

The election committee will include Louis Kollar, Leo Grace, Charles Haring, Herman Gibbs, Joseph Antush, Vernon Anderson, Eugene Minotto.

The union met Tuesday night and was told by President Corum that a current lack of work might continue another month. Unionists are alternating three and then four days on the job each week.

The slowdown was blamed to bad weather that is hampering construction in Southern states.

The Local will conduct a blood drive today and has a goal of 150 pints.

Industrial Employment Gain Shown in Area

A nearly 8 percent hike in industrial employment since May 1958 is noted in the Pottstown area industrial directory.

The directory, published by the Chamber of Commerce, lists 208 firms employing 27,025 persons. The increase is 1884 workers.

The fifth annual directory covers metal, textile, food and other classifications of industry in Pottstown and in 20 adjacent communities.

Baptist Minister Enters Hospital

The Rev. Isaiah Glenn, associate pastor of the Second Baptist church Jefferson avenue and Hale street, was admitted to Pottstown hospital Tuesday night with a sprained back.

The Rev. Glenn, 631 Beech street, is in good condition, hospital authorities reported. His personal physician is Dr. David Detar.

AMITYVILLE AND WEAVERTOWN — Mrs. David Kutz, corr. Phone JU 2-8268. Russell Hartline Jr., Del., Phone MU 4-3833. Irvin Wahl, Del., Phone FA 6-2759.

The Dorcas society of St. Paul's Lutheran church, observed its 66th anniversary with the regular church service.

The guest speaker for the occasion was Dr. Lowell Yund, a former medical missionary to Liberia and layman at Bethany church, West Reading.

The Rev. Paul Dundore will conduct the "blessing of the field" sermon on Sunday morning, May 22.

The Rev. William Solly, John Z. Harner, and Schley Kutz will attend the annual Spring sessions of the Reading Synod on May 18 and 19, in Christ church, Hegins.

Obituaries

Clarence Eck Dies After Heart Attack

Clarence Eck, 61, of 1222 Maple street, died Tuesday night in Memorial hospital. He suffered a heart attack and died after two and a half hours in the hospital.

Services are being arranged by the Fleischmann Funeral home, 726 High street.

Funeral services for ELMER DYER, 81, husband of Margaret Dyer, FOLCROFT DELAWARE COUNTY, will be Friday at 1 p. m. from the Spencer T. Videon and son funeral home, Drexel Hill.

Interment will be in the Limerick cemetery.

Mr. Dyer died Monday night at the Delaware County Memorial hospital.

He was born in Limerick, a son of the late James R. and Lydia (Linderman) Dyer.

Mr. Dyer was a machinist until he retired 10 years ago. He was a member of Hamilton lodge 274, F and AM, Philadelphia.

His wife is the only immediately related survivor.
